supporting students in understanding the nature of individual investigation,

the value of using supervision appropriately academic writing for journals.

Part 3: Teaching and learning methods

Teaching and learning methods: Independent learning underpins the teaching and learning strategy on the dissertation module. The student has an identified dissertation supervisor and supervision includes contact hours with the supervisor and formative feedback on draft work.

8 hours of workshops and 22 hours of supervision totalling 30 contact hours.

Students are allocated a supervisor who has the main responsibility for co-ordinating formal support, monitoring progress and project supervision. It is the student's responsibility to initiate and maintain contact with the supervisor.

Students undertaking projects requiring NRES (National research ethics service) applications may require extra support which will be negotiated with the module leader and the supervisor.

Module Learning outcomes: On successful completion of this module students will achieve the following learning outcomes.

MO1 Produce a comprehensive and critical review of the literature

MO2 Demonstrate breadth and depth of understanding of the strengths and weaknesses of an investigation

MO3 Critically evaluate and explore aspects of the research process including issues of reliability, validity, ethical issues and constraints

MO4 Evaluate and contribute to theoretical and methodological debate in their discipline area

MO5 Design and execute a well planned research study based on relevant research methodology, within a framework of research governance

Hours to be allocated: 600

Contact hours:

Independent study/self-guided study = 570 hours

Face-to-face learning = 30 hours

Total = 600

Part 4: Assessment

Assessment strategy: There are two assessment tasks for this module; a dissertation portfolio of course work and a presentation.

The dissertation portfolio allows the student to present the design and execution of a primary or secondary research and study, or service evaluation that they have undertaken. The dissertation portfolio should not exceed a maximum of 10,000 words (excluding reference lists) and consists of:

A journal article prepared for submission to a journal of their choice (70%).

An explanation and justification of the academic journal the paper is (hypothetically) written for (5%)

A reflection on their research. This will provide students space to justify their decisions in carrying out the research and in evaluation that might not fit well in the journal article (10%).

Presentation; students will be required to deliver a poster presentation of their research (15%).

Formative assessment occurs throughout the module as the student works with the allocated dissertation supervisor.
