STUDENT AND ACADEMIC SERVICES

Identifying and advising on appropriate course of action and identifying legal and nonlegal consequences of a course of action

Understanding how to assist a client in reaching a decision

Identifying further action to be taken and how to manage client expectations

How to effectively record and interview including advice given orally, decisions and outcomes and follow up steps

Understanding how to identify the circumstances in which to take instructions or seek advice from a supervising solicitor

Teaching and Learning Methods: Self-study preparation and research in order to acquire knowledge and understanding

A mixture of individual and group work centred on problem-based learning, involving management of information, analysis of complex facts and application of knowledge

Role play and oral presentations to demonstrate understanding and effective communication of complex areas of law applied to detailed factual scenarios

Preparation of written communications (primarily in the form of office memoranda and letters of advice to clients) to demonstrate understanding and effective communication of complex areas of law applied to detailed factual scenarios

Drafting and amending of legal documents, often involving the use of precedents, to demonstrate synthesis and application of knowledge, and the ability to reach autonomous, competent decisions

Reviews of topics in the form of both large group sessions (where ideas can be pooled and debated) and critical self-evaluation

The teaching and learning strategy pervading all modules on the Legal Practice Course is a student-centred approach through the provision of a stimulating educational environment

Face to face teaching and learning in a workshop environment is at the heart of the Teaching & Learning strategy, for students to participate fully in challenging activities, undertaking a wide variety of exercises as individuals and in groups. Full participation is encouraged and expected. Students are encouraged to ask questions during the workshops and to take responsibility for their own learning. Feedback will be given on these exercises both by students and tutors

Outside of the workshop students are required to take responsibility for their own learning undertaking a variety of preparatory tasks. These may be undertaken by students either as individuals or working in office groups, including include provision of information using recorded lectures, reading from course manuals and from practitioner texts, reading and research from primary source material, completion of electronic tests, preparing documents or presentations and attending large group sessions

The final component of each Study Unit will be a consolidation task or tasks designed to broaden and deepen students' understanding of an aspect or aspects of work covered in the relevant Study Unit

Part 3: Assessment

The Assessment Strategy pervading all modules on the LPC is rigorous in its approach to ensure the credibility of the course to ensure that

Assessment arrangements will be robust, consistent, fair and secure, to ensure that academic standards will meet the threshold set by the SRA

Assessments will revolve around transactions of the type encountered in practice

STUDENT AND ACADEMIC SERVICES

Assessments will address depth and realism as well as coverage

Individual assessments cover a representative and robust selection (but not all) of the relevant outcomes.

Where an assessment does not include coverage of all of the outcomes for a particular subject, students will nevertheless be prepared to be assessed on all outcomes and will not be informed of what (or will not) be assessed in any particular assessment.

Student achievement will be measured appropriately in accordance with the LPC outcomes.

All diligent students have an opportunity to achieve and demonstrate the LPC learning outcomes.

The needs of disabled students will be taken into account ensuring equal accessibility of assessments to all students.
