	formally assess the following: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Time management skills • Resource identification and management skills • Effective oral and written communication skills • Independent and interdependent (group) working
Syllabus Outline	Although the project largely involves self-directed private study supported by supervision, there will be a taught unit within the module, involving lectures, lectorials and skills sessions (see below). It is anticipated that this unit will also be available to students from other final year project-based modules. <hr/> Week 1: Introduction to the Unit: project documents and dissertations Week 2: Planning Week 3: Structuring Week 4: Writing Week 5: Editing and reviewing
Contact Hours/Scheduled Hours	Module delivery will be based on 6 hours of scheduled learning and teaching activities per teaching week during the taught unit. This will consist of: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - A weekly one hour lecture for the delivery of core syllabus concepts - A two hour facilitated enquiry/problem-based learning lectorial - Up to three one hour skills development/group supervision/surgery workshops with tutor feedback and support Each student will have the opportunity to benefit from individual supervision (see below). Extensive use will be made of Blackboard, and students will also be directed towards the University Library online Study Skills resources for the development of skills appropriate to the level and style of the module.
Teaching and Learning Methods	Scheduled learning The taught unit will be delivered over 5 weeks with a maximum of 6 hours contact time per week. Lectures will be 1 hour large group taught sessions. These will be supported by two hour lectorials where students will be supported in developing knowledge and understanding necessary for subsequent skills sessions. Skills (etc) sessions will support (a) the formal learning sessions of the unit and (b) the individual supervision sessions, and will be directly linked to the learning journal assessment. Independent learning Extensive independent learning is a necessity for this module. The study time associated with the module is based on 10:1 ratio of notional student study hours to credit value. This study will be supported by a series of up to 4 supervision sessions with a member of academic staff.

Reading Strategy	Access and Skills – All students will be encouraged to make full use of the print and electronic resources available to them through membership of the University. These include a large range of journals (both print and electronic) and a wide variety of resources available through web sites and information gateways. The University Library’s web pages provide access to subject relevant resources and services, and to the library catalogue. Students will be presented with opportunities within the programme curriculum and within this module to develop their information retrieval and evaluation skills, in order to identify appropriate resources effectively. Blackboard – This module is supported by Blackboard, where students will be able to find all necessary module documentation, including guidance on further reading within the module handbook. Direct links to information resources will also be provided from within Blackboard UWE Libraries – Engagement with online resources available through the library will be a core requirement of this module. Essential reading – Essential reading is the set text for this module which students are expected to purchase. The set text will be chosen by module staff from those suitable and appropriate, which are likely to include: Hart, C. (1998) Doing a Literature Review: Releasing the Social Science Research Imagination. London: SAGE. Further reading – Students will be advised of additional texts that further develop knowledge and understanding of specific issues within the module. In particular, students will be required to engage in independent research and wider reading in completion of the assessment for this module. Suggestions as to additional reading material will be made available to students during the course of the module via Blackboard and by supervisors. For their literature review, students will be expected to read very widely in the periodical (journal) literature on their chosen topic.
