Essential reading may include not just specific articles but set text books. Strategy In addition, students will expected to undertake further reading and viewing from a list of texts and resources chosen especially to support the module, listed in the Handbook and revised annually, or from topical items identified during the run of the module. These will help develop students understanding of the key topics and we will recommend they explore a selection in whole or in part. Most resources should be available in the campus library or electronically via the web but exceptionally they may not be and this will be indicated in the Module Handbook. Formal opportunities for students to develop their library access and information skills will be provided within the induction period and via the GDP. Additional support is available through the Library Services web pages, including interactive tutorials on finding books and journals, evaluating information and referencing. Part 3: Assessment
Assessment Strategy	Assessment will be based on a portfolio of multimedia work which includes:

Indicative items:

A multiplatform news story (ie the same story produced and reversioned for two platforms either TV and Online, or Radio and Online).

An extended online news story or special report with multimedia

A blog and social media output (News Tweets, Facebook posts)

Students will take part in news days where their contributions as independent journalists and team members will be peer and tutor assessed while they operate in different newsroom roles.

Indicative items:

Tutor observation reports

Peer observation reports

Self evaluation report (a reflective document that considers the whole process from development through production and the extent to which the final portfolio meets the students' hopes and expectations. Its strength will be in the ability for the student to recognise his/her own weaknesses as well as strengths and clearly identify the criteria from which they are making these judgements.)

Students will be advised on the importance of attendance in the module and their attendance and engagement with tasks will be directly assessed.

Attendance is indirectly assessed on this module as it is a vital skill to measure and reinforce in the area of professional conduct.
