	sustained teaching experience. Schedule of formal and informal meetings with school/college based practitioners and University tutors to reflect on progress and co-construct targets for on-going professional development.
	Formal and informal observations of teaching and subsequent feedback.
	Training review days to monitor and accelerate trainee progress.
Contact	At leastd 120 days in school/educational settings.
Hours/Scheduled Hours	Contact time for this module will also include lectures, tutorial meetings, directed study and online engagement.
Teaching and Learning Methods	Scheduled learning: This includes structured school/college placement-based work, formal tutorials and meetings with school/college practitioners, in addition to lectures, seminars, tutorials, subject knowledge workshops, demonstrations, directed tasks, field work/study visits, technology-enhanced learning through online engagement and e-mail contact. Independent learning: There is an expectation that trainees engage in additional independent study, including preparation for teaching and assessment of learning.
Reading Strategy	All trainees will be encouraged to make full use of the print and electronic resources, available to them through membership of the University. These include a range of electronic journals and a wide variety of resources available through web sites and information gateways. The University Library's web pages provide access to subject relevant resources and services, and to the library catalogue. Many resources can be accessed remotely. Trainees will be presented with opportunities within the module to develop their information retrieval and evaluation skills in order to identify such resources effectively. All essential reading will be indicated clearly, along with the method for accessing it, e.g. trainees may be expected to purchase a set text, and will be referred to other texts held in the library and texts that are available electronically. Further guidance will be available in the module handbook and via the module information on UWE online. If further reading is expected this will be indicated clearly. If specific texts are listed in subject-specific documentation, a clear indication will be given regarding how to access them and, if appropriate, trainees will be given guidance on how to identify relevant sources for themselves, e.g. through use of bibliographical databases. Formal opportunities for trainees to develop their library and information skills will be provided within the induction period and by academic subject tutors. Additional support is available through the Library Services web pages including interactive tutorials on for example accessing electronic journal articles and referencing.
Indicative Reading List	A range of current and relevant text and web-based policy and curriculum documents from the Department for Education, the Teaching Agency and the Office for Standards in Education, including: Capel, S. Part 3: Assessment

Assessment Strategy

The criteria for assessment of Professional Practice will comply with the current, relevant professional Teachers' Standards. Within this module trainees must demonstrate and evidence the accumulation, assimilation and volume of knowledge, understanding, skills and attitudes acquired during training.

Trainees must demonstrate the positive values and behaviour that they expect from young people in all aspects of their professional placements.

Trainees' practice will be underpinned by values that they can articulate and for which they can provide a rationale.

The above will manifest itself in high expectations of all young people, consistent and respectful treatment and concern for their development as learners; sensitive and effective communication with parents and carers and support staff and an understanding of their contribution; the ability to reflect on and improve their own teaching; and motivation to take responsibility for their own professional development.

Completion of a total of at least 120 days in school, including periods of sustained teaching experience, is assessed on a Pass/Fail basis against the Teachers' Standards.
