|                                     | Evidence-based professional knowledge and professional learning communities   |
| ContactHours/ScheduledHours | This 30 credit module uses the co-requisite Professional Development, Professional Practice, Subject Knowledge for Teaching and modules to co-deliver and embed aspects of the module learning outcomes.  |
| Teaching andLearningMethods | Scheduled learning: This includes whole cohort lectures, seminars, module tutorials, structured school/setting placement-based work, subject knowledge workshops, demonstrations, directed tasks, field work/study visits, technology-enhanced learning through online engagement and e-mail contact.Independent learning: There is an expectation that trainees engage in additional independent study, including engaging with essential and further reading, working on personal subject knowledge, preparation for and completion of assignments.   |
| ReadingStrategy                 | All trainees will be encouraged to make full use of the print and electronic resources, available to them through membership of the University. These include a range of electronic journals and a wide variety of resources available through web sites and information gateways. The University Library's web pages provide access to subject relevant resources and services, and to the library catalogue. Many resources can be accessed remotely. Trainees will be presented with opportunities within the module to develop their information retrieval and evaluation skills in order to identify such resources effectively. |
|                                     | All essential reading will be indicated clearly, along with the method for accessing it, e.g. trainees may be expected to purchase a set text, and will be referred to other texts held in the library and texts that are available electronically. Further guidance will be available in the module handbook and via the module information on UWE online.  |
|                                     | If further reading is expected this will be indicated clearly. If specific texts are listed in subject-specific documentation, a clear indication will be given regarding how to access them and, if appropriate, trainees will be given guidance on how to identify relevant sources for themselves, e.g. through use of bibliographical databases.   |
|                                     | Formal opportunities for trainees to develop their library and information skills will be   |
|                                     |   |

|                            | provided within the induction period and by academic subject tutors. Additional supportis available through the Library Services web pages including interactive tutorials onfor example accessing electronic journal articles and referencing. |

|------------------------|---|--|--|
| AssessmentStrategy | The module will be assessed in two components. The module assessment focuseson trainees understanding of the foundation subjects and the relationship with crosscurricula teaching and learning. Different models of cross curriucla learning are to beexplored, as will subject integrity and pedagogical approaches to learning.Part two of the assessement for this module will explore trainees understaning ofpolicy, practice and issues within a specified subject domain. Trainees will berequired to draw upon recent research and policy. |  |  |
