Part 2: Learning and Teaching
Learning Outcomes	On successful completion of this module students will be able to demonstrate: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. the ability to design and develop an independent research project (Component A); 2. a coherent and detailed critical knowledge about a chosen topic of study in creative practice and its cultural, historical and industrial contexts (Component A); 3. the ability to select, justify, apply and interpret appropriate research methods and sources (Component A); 4. the ability to analyse an object of study in relation to relevant critical and theoretical debates (Component A); 5. the ability to develop a coherent argument or analysis supported by research (Component A); 6. the ability to present research in an appropriate academic format (Component A).

Syllabus Outline	Students design and produce a research project that develops a specialised interest in contemporary critical debates and contexts for contemporary creative production. Workshops and lectures support students in developing their ideas, designing and implementing research projects, and provide guidance on independent study. Individual supervision tutorials support on-going research, critical reading and writing.
Contact Hours	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Students can expect a total of 36 hours scheduled contact time for this module. This includes lectures, workshops, and tutorials. • Contact time may also take a synchronous virtual form rather than face-to-face, through the use of email discussion groups, virtual learning environments (VLEs) and other technology-aided means.
Teaching and Learning Methods	Workshops and lectures support students in designing and conducting their research project and provide guidance in research methods and in identifying and using appropriate research materials. Students are expected to actively engage in peer-to-peer discussion, student-led research tasks and small and large group discussion in response to the materials presented, and those developed through individual study. Participation in these learning experiences (face to face and/or virtually) is core to the ethos of, and assessment strategy for the module. Tutorials help students structure their independent learning and provide subject specific advice and guidance.
Key Information Sets Information	Key Information Sets (KIS) are produced at programme level for all programmes that this module contributes to, which is a requirement set by HESA/HEFCE. KIS are comparable sets of standardised information about undergraduate courses allowing prospective students to compare and contrast between programmes they are interested in applying for. <table border="1" data-bbox="464 1285 1367 1664"> <tr> <td colspan="4">Number of credits for this module</td> <td style="border: 2px solid black; text-align: center;">15</td> <td></td> </tr> <tr> <th>Hours to be allocated</th> <th>Scheduled learning and teaching study hours</th> <th>Independent study hours</th> <th>Placement study hours</th> <th>Allocated Hours</th> <th></th> </tr> <tr> <td style="text-align: center;">150</td> <td style="text-align: center;">36</td> <td style="text-align: center;">114</td> <td></td> <td style="text-align: center;">150</td> <td style="text-align: center;"></td> </tr> <tr> <td></td> <td></td> <td></td> <td></td> <td></td> <td></td> </tr> <tr> <td></td> <td></td> <td></td> <td></td> <td></td> <td></td> </tr> </table> The table below indicates as a percentage the total assessment of the module which constitutes a - Written Exam: Unseen written exam, open book written exam, In-class test Coursework: Written assignment or essay, report, dissertation, portfolio, project Practical Exam: Oral Assessment and/or presentation, practical skills assessment, practical exam Please note that this is the total of various types of assessment and will not necessarily reflect the component and module weightings in the Assessment section of this module description:	Number of credits for this module				15		Hours to be allocated	Scheduled learning and teaching study hours	Independent study hours	Placement study hours	Allocated Hours		150	36	114		150

Reading Strategy	Students are expected to identify reading relevant to their chosen research topic, with advice and support from tutors. They will be encouraged to read widely using the library search, a variety of bibliographic and full text databases, and Internet resources. Many resources can be accessed remotely. The development of literature searching skills is supported by a Library seminar. These level three skills will build upon skills gained by the student whilst studying at levels one and two. Additional support is available through the Library Services web pages, including interactive tutorials on finding books and journals, evaluating information and referencing. Sign-up workshops are also offered by the Library.
Indicative Reading List	There is no set reading for this module.

Part 3: Assessment
Assessment Strategy	Assessment strategies within the programme that this module contributes to reflect the Faculty's philosophy which considers assessment to be part of the learning process. Formative and summative assessments are designed to provide the opportunity for students to understand and reflect upon their achievements and to support the monitoring of progress by tutors and students. Assessment methods used are varied, are relevant in demonstrating achievement to both academic and industry stakeholders, and form a coherent programme of assessment which is designed to offer students the maximum opportunity to demonstrate the skills, knowledge and experience that they have gained through the course of study, as well as to support ongoing and continuous improvement in their individual creative practice and development as practitioner-researchers. The principle of 'learning through making' is core to learning strategies in the Department of Creative Industries – these learning activities are then expanded into and through an exploration of contemporary practice in relevant and related subject areas. At assessment, therefore, students are expected to present evidence of work which demonstrates engagement with the minimum number of learning hours for the module (contact and independent study hours). Forms of assessment used as part of the overall programme include: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Presentation and participation in studio-critique • Poster presentation • Group and individual visual presentations • Group and individual verbal presentations

	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Written Assignments – forms of writing relevant to the creative industries, including academic/essay and industry focused/report writing • Group critiques • Peer and self-assessment • Evaluative and reflective outcomes, including visual, verbal and written Formative and summative assessment activities that involve students participating in the evaluation of presented work (their own and others') take place throughout the programme. Participation in and attendance at these sessions forms part of the assessed content of the module as a result of this. Feedback (verbal and/or in writing) at regular points throughout the module provides students with a clear understanding of their progress and advice about how this can be improved.
