STUDENT AND ACADEMIC SERVICES

The roles and responsibilities of the British public and uniformed services; crossover; voluntary or third sector; the impact of the global economic crisis 2008- present and the crisis of governance with a view to the impact of crime and terrorism on the ability of these services to respond.

Teaching and Learning Methods: 300 hours study time of which 100 hours will represent scheduled learning.

Scheduled learning will comprise lectures, seminars, demonstrations, tutorial and interactive learning.

Scheduled learning may also take a synchronous virtual form rather than face-to-face, through the use of email discussion groups, virtual learning environments (VLEs) and other technology-aided means.

Independent learning includes hours engaged with essential reading, assignment preparation and completion etc. Student study time will be organised each week with a series of both essential and further readings and preparation for the critical review.

Contact Hours:

100 hours scheduled learning

This module will be taught across both semesters on one day per week.

Part 3: Assessment

A range of assessment techniques will be employed to ensure that learners can meet the breadth of learning outcomes presented in this module alongside the ability to demonstrate transferable skills e.g. communication skills.

Component A - Critical Presentation:

Students will be expected to present to their peers an investigative review on the ways in which the European Union shapes its economic policies with regards to International theorists. This is an opportunity for students to demonstrate engagement with current research in the field. The students findings should be critically analysed for their effectiveness and the geopolitical landscape within which the public service sits considered.

Component B - Critical Essay:

An extended piece of writing encouraging students to engage with both the essential and the further reading to discuss the role of the UK Uniformed and Public Services in addressing global and National organised crime. This will test the ability to evaluate, analyse, summarise and criticise.

Opportunities for formative assessment exist for each of the assessment strategies used. Verbal feedback is given and all students will engage with personalised tutorials setting SMART targets as part of the programme design.
