	The student with support of a tutor must contact employers to gain a work placement, and must obtain written agreement from the employer to confirm the offer of a specified period of work placement.
	Prior placement approval must have been granted by the College, and all attendant paperwork must have been completed and signed off by both the placement provider and the module's placement tutor, BEFORE starting the work placement.
	1 How to find a suitable work placement.

How to apply for a work placement. 3 Identifying own skills relevant to placement. 4 Consideration of future careers. Contact hours Indicative delivery modes: Lectures, guided learning, seminars etc 66 Self directed study 6 Independent learning, including work placement 228 TOTAL 300 Teaching and Scheduled learning learning methods May include lectures, seminars, tutorials, project supervision, demonstration, practical classes and workshops; fieldwork; external visits; work based learning; supervised time in studio/workshop. Independent learning May include hours engaged with essential reading, case study preparation, assignment preparation and completion etc. These sessions constitute an average time per level as indicated in the table below. Scheduled sessions may vary slightly depending on the module choices you make. Placement learning Work-based learning equating to a minimum of 40 hours of approved and verified work experience is a compulsory part of this module. To support the compulsory period of work placement the work placement tutor will: Mentor the student through the whole process from selecting placement options, application and interview, through to the end of the placement exit interview with the placement provider. Help the student construct a personal development plan/work objectives in conjunction with the placement provider. Monitor progress throughout the placement with the student and placement provider. Virtual learning environment (VLE) This specification is supported by a VLE where students will be able to find all necessary module information. Direct links to information sources will also be provided from within the VLE. Key information Key information sets (KIS) are produced at programme level for all programmes that this sets information module contributes to, which is a requirement set by HESA/HEFCE. KIS are comparable sets of standardised information about undergraduate courses allowing prospective students to compare and contrast between programmes they are interested in applying Key Information Set - Module Data Number of credits for this module 30 Hours to be Scheduled Independent Placement Allocated Hours learning and allocated study hours study hours teaching study hours 300 72 188 40 300 The table below indicates as a percentage the total assessment of the module which constitutes a: Written Exam: Unseen written exam, open book written exam, in-class test. 2 Coursework: Written assignment or essay, report, dissertation, portfolio, project.

Practical Exam: Oral Assessment and/or presentation, practical skills assessment, practical exam. Please note that this is the total of various types of assessment and will not necessarily reflect the component and module weightings in the Assessment section of this module description: Total assessment of the module: Written exam assessment percentage 0% 50% Coursework assessment percentage Practical exam assessment percentage 50% 100% Reading strategy Core readings Any essential reading will be indicated clearly, along with the method for accessing it, e.g. students may be required to purchase a set text, be given a print study pack or be referred to texts that are available electronically or in the Library. Module guides will also reflect the range of reading to be carried out. Further readings Further reading will be required to supplement the set text and other printed readings. Students are expected to identify all other reading relevant to their chosen topic for themselves. They will be required to read widely using the library search, a variety of bibliographic and full text databases, and Internet resources. Many resources can be accessed remotely. The purpose of this further reading is to ensure students are familiar with current research, classic works and material specific to their interests from the academic literature. Access and skills Formal opportunities for students to develop their library and information skills are provided within the induction period and study skills sessions. Additional support is available through online resources. This includes interactive tutorials on finding books and journals, evaluation information and referencing. Sign up workshops are also offered. The following list is offered to provide validation panels/accrediting bodies with an Indicative reading list indication of the type and level of information students may be expected to consult. As such, its currency may wane during the life span of the module specification. However, as indicated above, CURRENT advice on readings will be available via other more frequently updated mechanisms, including the module guide. Cashmore, E. Part 3: Assessment
Assessment	The assessment strategy specifically aims to:
Strategy  1 Ascertain students' learning strengths, weaknesses and continuing developmental needs. 2 Develop students' ability to integrate theory and practice. 3 Develop critical and analytical skills to improve further practice. 4 Enable students to search for, utilise and critique key literature and empirical research. 5 Promote students' individual growth and independent lifelong learning skills.  In order for this to be achieved, assessments adopt a variety of techniques such as; reflective oral presentation (which should also include evidence of a completed work placement and an evaluation from the placement mentor), and a report surrounding contemporary curriculum issues. Assessment of practice is undertaken using competency based framework to demonstrate the integration of theory and practice.  In line with the College's commitment to facilitating equal opportunities, a student may apply for alternative means of assessment if appropriate. Each application will be considered on an individual basis taking into account learning and assessment needs. For further information regarding this please refer to the VLE.
