Teaching and Learning Methods	Scheduled learning includes lectures, seminars, tutorials, case studies; Classes offer a combination of formal lectures with a variety of participative activities, including case studies (using film), group discussions, and problem-solving activities. The ethos of the module is based around participation and therefore places a high value on the contribution of students in exploring and evaluating theory, and in being able to apply that knowledge to an organisational context. Independent learning includes hours engaged with essential reading, case study preparation, assignment preparation and completion etc. Students are expected to carry out reading of set texts, and other preparatory material including case studies before class. The learning which emerges will be enhanced by informal group discussion before, during and after formal classes. The preparatory reading and assignment preparation involve private study. These sessions constitute an average time per level as indicated in the table below. Scheduled sessions may vary slightly depending on the module choices you make. Virtual learning environment (VLE): this specification is supported by a VLE where students will be able to find all necessary module information. Direct links to information sources will also be provided from within the VLE.
Key Information Sets Information	Key Information Sets (KIS) are produced at programme level for all programmes that this module contributes to, which is a requirement set by HESA/HEFCE. KIS are comparable sets of standardised information about undergraduate courses allowing prospective students to compare and contrast between programmes they are interested in applying for. <table border="1" data-bbox="470 1261 1385 1653"> <thead> <tr> <th colspan="5">Key Information Set - Module data</th> </tr> </thead> <tbody> <tr> <td colspan="4">Number of credits for this module</td> <td>15</td> </tr> <tr> <th>Hours to be allocated</th> <th>Scheduled learning and teaching study hours</th> <th>Independent study hours</th> <th>Placement study hours</th> <th>Allocated Hours</th> </tr> <tr> <td>150</td> <td>42</td> <td>108</td> <td>0</td> <td>150</td> </tr> </tbody> </table> The table below indicates as a percentage the total assessment of the module which constitutes a - Written Exam: Unseen written exam, open book written exam, In-class test Coursework: Written assignment or essay, report, dissertation, portfolio, project Practical Exam: Oral Assessment and/or presentation, practical skills assessment, practical exam Please note that this is the total of various types of assessment and will not necessarily reflect the component and module weightings in the Assessment section of this module description:	Key Information Set - Module data					Number of credits for this module				15	Hours to be allocated	Scheduled learning and teaching study hours	Independent study hours	Placement study hours	Allocated Hours	150	42	108	0	150

Reading Strategy	Essential readings All essential reading which is recommended to students is available in the College library. There are no set texts to accompany this module. A range of recommended books are suggested to students upon their first lecture and also included in their module handbooks. Module guides will also reflect the range of reading to be carried out. Further readings Further reading will be required to supplement the recommended text and other printed readings. Students are expected to identify all other reading relevant to their chosen topic for themselves. They will be required to read widely using the library search, a variety of bibliographic and full text databases, and internet resources. Many resources can be accessed remotely. The purpose of this further reading is to ensure students are familiar with current research, classic works and material specific to their interests from their academic literature. Access and skills Formal opportunities for students to develop their library and information skills are provided within the induction period and student skills sessions. Additional support is available through online resources. This includes interactive tutorials on finding books and journals, evaluation information and referencing. Sign up workshops are also offered.
Indicative Reading List	The following list is offered to provide validation panels/accrediting bodies with an indication of the type and level of information students may be expected to consult. As such, its currency may wane during the life span of the module specification. Part 3: Assessment
Assessment Strategy	Strategy: The assessment strategy for this module uses a combination of written assessment and oral poster defence. The assignment will focus practical application of change within an organisational context and evaluation of its impact on people within the organisation. The assignment maps to the requirements for the ILM Level 3 unit ‘planning change in the workplace’ which students may opt to register for at additional cost. Institute of Leadership and Management Assessments As part of this module students will have the opportunity to attain a 2 credit unit towards the ILM level 3 award in Leadership & Management. In order to attain the ILM credits the assignment will need to be passed at a pass rate of 50% or above. Students can gain further guidance on content and assignment lengths from the university word count policy Oral Poster Defence of Change plan This assessment demonstrates the student’s ability to identify and plan for the key elements of the organisational change discussed within their written assignment. This element will drive employability through development of project management and communication skills. In line with the College’s commitment to facilitating equal opportunities, a student may apply for alternative means of assessment if appropriate. Each application will be considered on an individual basis taking into account learning and assessment needs. For further information regarding this please refer to the VLE.
