Part 2: Description

The syllabus is split into three distinct sections, to guide the learner through the field of enterprise and entrepreneurship.

On successful completion of this module, students will have developed an awareness of enterprise and entrepreneurship understanding the 'how' practice occurs in real world context.

They will have begun to develop an understanding of the place of enterprise and entrepreneurship in society and contemporary practices. In addition to beginning to develop an awareness of creativity and it's role within an enterprising and entrepreneurial context.

Indicative content

Enterprise and Society

- The social context of enterprise and entrepreneurship
- How and why do specific contexts influence the shaping and enacting of entrepreneurship practices?

STUDENT & ACADEMIC SERVICES

Enterprise in Practice

- What is the nature of entrepreneurship practices and how do they come about?
- 'How' entrepreneurship practitioners say and do things and the consequences of practices?

Delivering Innovation and Creativity

• 'How' and 'why' do enterprise and entrepreneurship practitioners (individual and/or collective) enact skills and practices?

Part 3: Assessment

Opportunities for formative assessment and interim feedback are built into module delivery on a weekly basis. Assessment is directly driven by the learning outcomes of the module, and involves creative hands-on learning.

The module designs out plagiarism through continuous group work in class and assessment based on learning from these experiences.

Component A is a group multi-media presentation that explores framing problems and possible solutions to a real life situation posed to the students from a practitioner. This might include live interviews, sounds, images, face-to-face conversations presented to module assessors. Component B requires students to engage in a 1500 word maximum portfolio of the milestones in their understanding of the role of enterprise and entrepreneurship in society, and the importance of enterprise and entrepreneurship to their future career and life aspirations.

There are two components to the summative assessment for this module:

COMPONENT A:

Group Multi-media presentation and supporting documentation (15min).

COMPONENT B:

Individual portfolio (max. 1500 words)
