Part 2: Description

The PPD is the programme spine module that applies a practice-focused teaching and learning approach. Through the vehicle of a team-based business simulation students will be able to link their learning experiences with practice. Students will further develop their interpersonal and communication skills. Emphasis is placed on the relevance and applicability of knowledge to students' own individual professional and academic development with respect to their future careers in the International Business domain.

The module will run over two semesters in order to bring together learning from across the taught element of the programme and students will be required to critically reflect on their learning alongside their engagement with a team-based business simulation.

Students on the two year including placement route will complete a series of online activities in addition as part of their preparation for the placement.

These extra activities will cover placement specific topics (such as UK regulations and careers and development materials). These activities will be monitored as part of their engagement with the placement related activities, thus ensuring cover fundamental materials and information to assist them with finding and securing a placement.

Aspects covered:

- The importance of self-observation, critical reflection and how to undertake it
- Professional development planning and goal-setting
- Professionalism, ethics and inter-cultural issues in business and management
- The role of career planning and Continuing Professional Development
- Interpersonal skill sets for business professionals

2017-18

• Questions and debates related to the nature and use of evidence and how it relates to managerial decisionmaking, continuing professional development and academic study

Learning in the module is achieved through a combination of class-based activity, team-based activity and independent study, supported by online materials and a web-based business simulation.

Students will start this module when they commence their masters programme with an introduction to professional development planning, reflective learning and the construction of a portfolio. The business simulation will be introduced during semester 1 with teams organised by the module team.

There will be an opportunity at the end of each module within the programme for students to be given support in reflecting on what they will take from each module into their portfolio.

Part 3: Assessment

The assessment comprises two parts:

Component A: 30-minute team presentation based on the business simulation (70%) Component B: Personal and Professional Development Portfolio (30%)

Students in the MSc placement route will complete online activities specific to their placement. These activities will not be part of their assessment in this module, but they will be monitored by the tutor to support the engagement with placement activities.

A. 30-minute team presentation based on the business simulation

Student teams are required to give a 30-minute presentation including QA based on the performance of their virtual company linked to their learning across the programme. All team members will be awarded the same mark for the presentation, however a peer evaluation element will be included that will provide scope to differentiate marks as appropriate.

B. Personal and Professional Development portfolio

Building on their initial personal development plans, students will be required to critically reflect on their individual learning throughout the programme and how this has, or they believe will, help shape their future career. The critical reflections should provide evaluation of the extent to which they have used relevant concepts and theories to make a contribution to their future career as well as their own learning.

The portfolio will include an overarching piece of reflection on the programme experience as a whole. This reflective piece needs to highlight the transferrable skills that have been gained/developed and how they believe their learning from the programme can be applied to their future careers.

Students are encouraged to work with tutors throughout the programme to gain formative feedback and support with using the tools needed to create their portfolios. Students are encouraged to be innovative and creative in meeting the outcomes for the assessment.
