Outline syllabus: Strategic Management Accounting develops key topics introduced in Management Accounting and Decision Making at level 2 and draws on aspects of the material covered from a strategic perspective in Strategy and Technology.

The module allows students to appreciate the strategic role of management accounting as a discipline for planning and controlling performance so that strategic objectives can be set, monitored and controlled. The study of performance improvement techniques involves the development of a holistic appreciation of how operational tools (e.g. activity based costing) can be used for strategic purposes.

High-level performance measurement techniques are examined in a variety of contexts, including divisionalised companies, not-for-profit organisations and multinational businesses. Having covered the strategic aspects of performance management and operational systems for the measurement and control of performance in a variety of contexts, candidates are then expected to use this knowledge to appreciate a variety of performance measurement models in current use.

Finally, the module will look at current developments in strategic management accounting as revised contemporaneously with any emerging issues as they might affect or influence the management of performance within organisations.

This module will cover the following topics:

- Performance Hierarchy, (re)introducing the link between strategy and technology, and strategic management accounting

- Strategic performance improvement techniques such as Activity Based Management including Direct Product Profitability Analysis and Direct Customer Profitability Analysis, Value analysis and quality function deployment, alternatives to budgeting

- Strategic performance issues in complex organisations such as the performance evaluation of cost, profit and investment centres (ROI/RI/EVA), transfer pricing – negotiated, market, cost-plus, dual transfer prices and lump sum adjustments, and the effects of transfer prices on motivation of divisional management

- Strategic performance measurement models such as Balanced Scorecard and other non-financial performance measurement models and also not for profit organisations and the public sector

- Contemporary issues* in Strategic Management Accounting such as Environmental Accounting, benchmarking, impact of FinTech

*The issues studied may be revised to remain contemporary

Part 3: Teaching and learning methods

Teaching and learning methods: This module will utilise a variety of approaches including lectures, workshops, case studies, problem solving exercises, individual and group work and feedback. Part 4: Assessment

Assessment strategy: The examination will allow students to demonstrate their capacity to apply their knowledge to resolve business problems under pressure.

Coursework will require students to apply their learning to a practice based case study , demonstrating their ability to carry out research , evaluate relatively complex information and apply their knowledge to arrive at appropriate and well-reasoned recommendations.

Formative feedback is provided regularly throughout the module delivery allowing both students and staff to identify areas which might require further revision to build understanding.

Component A: 60% 2.5 hour examination

Component B: 40% 2,000 word case study based assignment. This group report incorporates a live simulation, which will provide students with an opportunity to experience a practice based case study, consistent with the University's employability agenda.

Assessment components:

Examination - Component A (First Sit)

Description: 2.5 hour examination

Weighting: 60 %

Final assessment: Yes

Group work: No

Learning outcomes tested: MO1, MO2, MO3, MO4, MO5

Report - Component B (First Sit)

Description: Group report (2,000 words) incorporating a live simulation, which will provide students with an opportunity to experience a practice based case study, consistent with the University's employability agenda.

Weighting: 40 %

Final assessment: No

Group work: Yes

Learning outcomes tested: MO1, MO2, MO3, MO4, MO5
