Part 2: Description

This module builds on the foundational skills developed in 'Creative Practice and Writing Mechanics' at Level 1 (in which students strengthened their ongoing creative practice by building an awareness of the personal context of their writing). The focus in this module turns outwards: students will analyse how writers interact with the world, how they draw on such interactions to inform their own creative outputs, and - in turn - how they (potentially) reshape the world through their contribution to a variety of discourses, through e.g. journalism, landscape literature, spoken word performance, and poetry installations. This module engages with poetry as an exemplary test-case: students will explore the character of the conversation that poetry can have with the world, and how the form and performance of creative work engages its audience, whether through (for example) poetry in the built environment, open mic community events or more conventional poetry outputs.

Part 3: Assessment: Strategy and Details

Students are required to submit two portfolios of work, each of which includes the outcomes of tasks set during the module. The rationale for having two portfolios is (a) to enable there to be two assessment points during the year, helping students to pace their work and to act on feedback to improve their ongoing practice, and (b) to give greater clarity for the students, in that the focus of one portfolio will be poetry (including its public engagement element), while the other portfolio will contain a broader range of writing that explores the notion of public engagement. The tasks in each portfolio will be designed to enable students to demonstrate, for the purposes of assessment, the acquisition of skills, knowledge, understanding and/or experience that meets the learning outcomes for the module. The word count will be determined by the nature of the tasks set, and a clear indication
