Part 2: Description
This module explores the changing nature of healthcare needs and the national/international challenges for healthcare delivery for adults including older people living with a long term condition. This module will enable nursing students to demonstrate how their current and future roles contribute to making excellence in nursing care an integral part of everyday care practices and services. This reflects the importance of the condition for individuals, their families, health and social care services and the wider community. This module includes an exploration of service availability and how to improve access for adults, advocacy, consent and capacity, making adjustments to care delivery or to lifestyle. It will also suggest ways to support inclusion and respond to deterioration in physical and mental wellbeing, thereby helping students to make links between health status and health outcomes. This module will use a range of learning and teaching strategies to support student learning and will include: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Lectures • Scenario based teaching through interaction • Group work

- Self-directed learning
- Digital learning delivered through Blackboard and other virtual learning platforms

The teaching and content will be delivered by academics, Service users and Carers, and external partners from adult field of nursing.

The indicative content of the module will focus on the Nursing and Midwifery (NMC) Future Nursing Standards (2018) with a particular focus on the NMC standards of proficiency and annexes in exploring the nature of care and practice. Content will include:

- Being an accountable professional
- Promoting health and preventing ill health
- Assessing needs and planning care
- Providing and evaluating care
- Leading and managing nursing care and working in teams
- Improving safety and quality of care
- Coordinating care

And two annexes.

- Communication and relationship management skills
- Nursing procedures

Part 3: Assessment: Strategy and Details

The use of a case study assignment will allow students to further develop their academic skills, and demonstrate their knowledge in nursing care delivery for adults living with a long-term condition informed by national and international evidence.

Formative assessment: Students will have the opportunity to give a 10 minute presentation outlining their choice in topic and a plan for completion of the summative assignment. Immediate feedback will be given and signposting to appropriate resources.

Summative assessment: This assignment consists of 3000 words broken down into two areas.

Part 1: Students will write approximately 1750 words detailing the needs of an adult experiencing a change in health or social circumstances. Students are expected to analyse the impact in terms of the social, emotional and physiological aspects of delivering care in the short, mid and long-term. This should also include services that are available to the individual and their families. This should be supported with appropriate references. Examples that may be used are:

- Diagnosis of dementia
- Social care intervention
- Safeguarding
- Hypertension

Students should analyse:

- The change in health or social circumstance and the impact of this on the individual and family
- Address the social, psychological and physiological effects
- The efficacy of available services

Part 2: Students will write approximately 1000 words, to identify one nursing intervention from the discussion in part one, which meets the needs of the older adult and family through the nursing process supported with literature. Additionally, approximately 250 words should be used to grade and provide a rationale for the grade against the assessment criteria. Students are expected to provide a reference list as per university guidelines.
