Features: Not applicable

Educational aims: This module provides students with the support and skills required to conduct an independent study from a choice of one of four project options. Taught elements will build on knowledge gained in Research Methodologies of Nursing Enquiry to enable students to complete a research related project through individual and supervised sessions.

Outline syllabus: The indicative content of the module will focus on the Nursing and Midwifery (NMC) Future Nurse Standards (2018) and will include:

Quantitative research methods and methodology.

Qualitative research methods and methodology.

Mixed methods and methodology.

Service User narrative.

Frameworks around service improvement and service evaluation

Preparation and guidelines in completing an independent project

A fundamental aspect of nursing practice is to ensure that the care provided is inclusive and recognises diversity. Therefore, all modules within this programme have included the principles of globalisation, equality, diversity and inclusivity. Consideration has been given to module titles, the module description, the assessment, learning outcomes and the reading list.

Part 3: Teaching and learning methods

Teaching and learning methods: A range of learning and teaching activities will be utilised to support student learning and could include:

Lead lectures which may be delivered online or face to face

Online learning packages

Case studies-based scenarios with the involvement of service users to enable students to reflect on multiple perspectives needed to make effective and safe decisions

Seminars and group work will be utilised to support the beginning of problem solving and enquiry-based learning, in addition to the development of self-directed learning skills

Skills and Simulation

Opportunities to learn through peer and academic feedback will be facilitated through the medium of formative assessment

All teaching and learning materials will be digitally accessible (The Public Sector Bodies Accessibility Regulations 2018).

Module Learning outcomes: On successful completion of this module students will achieve the following learning outcomes.

MO1 Demonstrate critical appraisal of research methods and evidence, drawing on experience for application to practice.

MO2 Critically explore healthcare ethics and governance examine how nursing practice can be evaluated to ensure quality and efficacy.

MO3 Demonstrate an understanding of promoting and maintaining non-discriminatory practice.
