Part 2: Description

Overview: This is the first Learners and Teachers module. Learners are introduced to theories and practices of teaching and learning and professional skills and responsibilities. They begin to explore underlying themes for teachers and learners including context, values, wellbeing and relationships.

Features: Not applicable

Educational aims: Begin to develop trainees' critical, evidence-based understanding of a range of theories and practices of learning and teaching to support all learners to make good progress.

Facilitate trainees to evidence engagement with issues relating to child/adolescent development, diverse needs, the contexts of their lives and the impact these have.

Support trainees to understand the importance of, and how to build, respectful, positive relationships with children and adults, underpinned by an exploration and articulation of their own values, experiences and the impact this can have.

Enable trainees to examine a range of professional skills, understandings and behaviours and their implications to their practice.

Provide opportunities for trainees to begin to engage with exploration, analysis and articulation of wider issues and debates in education.
