Part 2: Educational Aims of the Programme

The Professional Development Award aim to provide a flexible modular structure for negotiating programmes of study which have work-based learning at their core.

The programme aims to provide learners with:

- the opportunity to enhance their knowledge and skills and the ability to become more able, responsive and productive in their current or future roles by extending their current knowledge;
- the opportunity to develop intellectual, analytical and problem solving skills and encourage the development of mature and independent judgment;
- the skills to develop approaches to learning within the context of formal study as it relates to the workplace;
- an enthusiasm for enquiry and learning which will encourage learners to consider their studies as a stage of a lifelong educational process.

In addition the Professional Development Award as a whole will:

- offer a means by which employers and/or individual learners can negotiate a programme of study that best suits their needs and requirements;
- provide the opportunity to have learning recognised for the award of credit;
- facilitate the widening of access to and participation in higher education;
- encourage participants on the programme to develop as independent learners who take responsibility for their own learning.

Programme requirements for the purposes of the Higher Education Achievement Record (HEAR)

The programme learning outcomes align with United Kingdom Coaching Certificate (UKCC) Level 4 cross-sport national coach capabilities and reflect the contextual organizational demands upon a practitioner working as the leader in a multi-agency high performance environment. Modular learning outcomes and syllabi reflect a broad range of scientific and social-emotional principles focused both on direct intervention via planning and collaboration with sports science alongside philosophical interrogation of personal values and goals. A professional development portfolio wraps around this programme of study to ascertain learning needs, allow integration of learning into practice and prompt reflection upon next steps after completion of the award.

Part 3: Learning Outcomes of the Programme

The award provides opportunities for organisations and individuals to develop tailored programmes to meet their needs and support learners to develop and demonstrate knowledge and understanding, qualities, skills and other attributes of benefit to their current workplace, or voluntary activities or future career aspirations. The award also provides opportunities for learners to develop some or all of the graduate employability attributes detailed below. The learning outcomes below relate to how a learner engages and learns through and from work-based and work-related situations. For example, a learner, whatever their role, may demonstrate through their study high levels of intellectual and conceptual understanding of complex issues. Someone in a 'high level' role may need support and a learning structure to enable them to engage in a way which reflects upon the high level of complexity, uncertainty and/or responsibility required for the role and to apply this understanding to a wide range of intellectual challenges across a range of contexts.

It is the intention that the award learning outcomes will be used by learners, prospective learners and teaching teams as a reference point for the intended outcomes of each level of programme, and to enable the awarding body to satisfy itself that the programme outcomes have been achieved and demonstrated through individual module assessment, including compulsory work-based learning project modules.

The award route provides opportunities for students to develop and demonstrate knowledge and understanding, qualities, skills and other attributes in the following areas:

Learning Outcomes:		Rugby Union – Coaching Craft	Rugby Union - Supporting Elite Performance	Rugby Union – Changing Coaching Cultures	Rugby Union – The Mind Factor	Rugby Union – The Technical Tactical Study	Rugby Union – Professional Development Portfolio
A) Knowledge and understanding:
The learner:
1	Can demonstrate an in-depth knowledge base relating to their area of work and the ability to extend this into the wider context and area of practice.	x	x	x	x	x	x
2	Can develop and critically evaluate a range of practical theories, ideas and models, including to overcome dilemmas and find ways forward in problematic situations.	x	x	x	x	x	x
3	Can research, analyse and evaluate information to identify interrelationships between wider systems in which their own work is located.	x	x	x		x
(B) Intellectual Skills
The learner:
1	Can develop innovative ways forward in complex and unpredictable situations.	x	x	x	x	x	x
2	Can develop novel approaches to systems.	x	x	x	x	x	x
(C) Subject/Professional/Practical Skills
The learner:
1	Can operate substantial investigation to address significant areas of their own work practice using methodologies which are consistent with their purposes and contexts.					x	x
2	Can critically evaluate thinking, action and structural factors operating in the area of their own work practice, including underlying assumptions, and identifying implications for wider systems beyond the area of practice.	x	x	x	x	x	x
(D) Transferable skills and other attributes
The learner:
1	Can evaluate alternative implications of different issues and courses of action and can reflect on own and others' functioning in order to improve practice.	x	x	x	x	x	x
2	Can evaluate and manage dilemmas and value-conflicts.	x				x	x
3	Can evaluate and act on interrelationships between wider systems in which the area of practice is located.			x		x	x
4	Can demonstrate a level of personal and contextual awareness and the ability to adjust approach according to need.	x	x	x	x	x	x
5	Has independent learning ability.	x	x	x	x	x	x

Part 4: Student Learning and Student Support

Teaching, learning and assessment strategies to enable learning outcomes to be achieved and demonstrated

On the Postgraduate Diploma Professional Development (Coaching Rugby Union) programme teaching is a mix of small group seminars, individual observations and professional development tutorials.

Scheduled learning

Includes seminars, tutorials, project supervision, demonstration, practical classes and workshops; work based learning; supervised time in sport coaching environments. Scheduled sessions may vary slightly depending on the module choices made.

Independent learning

Includes hours engaged with essential reading, case study preparation, assignment preparation and completion etc. These sessions constitute an average time per level as indicated in the table below. Scheduled sessions may vary slightly depending on the module choices made.

These activities will on average equate to:

- a) 145 learning hours per 15 credit module
- b) 270 learning hours per 30 credit module.

Virtual Learning Environment (VLE)

This specification is supported by a VLE where students will be able to find all necessary module information. Direct links to information sources will also be provided from within the VLE.

Careers

To support learner's career preparations, careers personnel visit Hartpury on a regular basis and the students can use all the on line resources. Tutors will also offer subject specific careers advice through module sessions or individual tutorials. Careers Fairs are arranged periodically to allow students to engage directly with employers from the industry sector.

Description of Distinctive Features and Support

Each student is provided with three sources of support specific to the content, level and aims of the programme:

- a) A Coach Advisor – a tutor enmeshed in the local context in which their assigned coach is working and who has received extensive training from the RFU and their professional partners in terms of mentoring and action-planning.
- b) An Assessment Support Tutor – a Hartpury College HE Sport department member assigned to provide group and one-to-one tutorial support regarding assignment preparation, drafting and feedback. The tutor is detailed to visit each of six seminars that appear throughout the 18 month course and to visit each coach in situ on a 'needs' basis as new content is covered or any individual learning concerns arise.
- c) A Course Leader – an RFU tutor tasked with information distribution with regard to process and administration concerns and in particular as a guide for students in terms of their compiling the Professional Portfolio evidence and networking with other RFU staff in order to support individualised needs concerning completion of the Long Term Assignment module.

Part 5: Assessment

This must include all compulsory modules.
GRADUATION

Part time:

There are a number of routes that a part time student can take to graduate, this can be done depending upon student requirements, hence production of a specific map will depend upon an individual student basis.

Part 7: Entry Requirements

The University Centre's Standard Entry Requirements apply with the following additions/exceptions*:

The pre-requisite for application acceptance is the successful completion of the RFU UKCC Level 3 coaching award and successful completion of an interview process ascertaining sufficient levels of prior experience in the distinct environment required and focused upon within the programme.

The criterion level for acceptance is described as national coaching at all age groups, Premiership and Division One coaching as defined by current league structures and national Academy coaching or management.

Part 8: Reference Points and Benchmarks

Description of how the following reference points and benchmarks have been used in the design of the programme:

QAA subject benchmark statements for Master's level study have been a key contributor to course design with advice from external assessors allowing the design group to draw upon their experiences with regards to the concurrent development of Hartpury's MSc in Coaching Science.

The UKCC Coaching Standards Group is drawn from professional coaching practitioners, national governing body coach educators and coaching science academics. The formal regulations and informal guidance from this group has been central in the design of the RFU submission to UKCC and the design of programme aims, module content and assessment blend.

Employer interaction and feedback has been widely sought after and has come from the distinct range of coaching contexts that students will be working in and towards. Cross-sport input has been a key source for reflections upon the programme, as has advice from professional staff in related contexts such as business management and specific sport sciences (given the module content range.)

This specification provides a concise summary of the main features of the programme and the learning outcomes that a typical student might reasonably be expected to achieve and demonstrate if he/she takes full advantage of the learning opportunities that are provided. More detailed information on the learning outcomes, content and teaching, learning and assessment methods of individual modules can be found in module specifications, available on the University's website.
