Section 2: Programme Overview, Aims and Learning Outcomes

Part A: Programme Overview, Aims and Learning Outcomes

Overview: The programme develops the students' knowledge and understanding of literature in relation to culture and society. It enhances students' transferrable skills of critical engagement, understanding of the relationship between literature, culture and society, research, argument, clear and effective communication. It encultures students into discipline-specific knowledge, understanding and practices.

Educational Aims: The educational aims of Programme are to:

Provide a current curriculum which offers depth within and breadth across the subject area through distinctive modules based on staff expertise;

Provide students with a thorough knowledge of English literary culture by exposing them to canonical and non-canonical texts from the Renaissance to the twenty-first century;

Develop students' critical practices that stress the crucial balance between close reading and theoretical/contextual models of interpretation;

Extend students' knowledge of the historical and intellectual frames of reference from which literature emerges;

Offer a distinctively varied learning and assessment portfolio which encourages the development of analytic skills, creative expression and critical argument;

Provide a supportive and responsive framework for students' academic and personal development;

Offer a compulsory curriculum that develops outward-facing, employable students who are fully conscious of the transferable value of their subject-specific knowledge and skills;

Encourage students to practise their subject-specific knowledge and skills in real working environments through the employability strategy;

Offer modules that engage and connect with cognate programmes across the faculty, facilitating integrated learning opportunities;

Offer opportunities that address UWE's wider agenda, such as childhood studies and the creative industries.

Part C: Higher Education Achievement Record (HEAR) Synopsis

The Programme encourages students to produce academic work of the highest calibre by achieving the stipulated learning outcomes for all of their modules.

Students are advised to engage in extra curricular activities such as joining the English Society, becoming Student Ambassadors, undergoing the training to be PAL Leaders and Senior PAL leaders, representing their programme/module at staff-student meeting. The Sandwich Option route also offers students a defined option to gain accredited experience of the workplace. At level 3 the Kate Fullbrook Award is presented to the student who best exemplifies achievement in adversity; the Keith Davey Memorial Prize for the best English Independent Project is awarded to the highest achieving student on the module.

Part D: External Reference Points and Benchmarks

Description of how the following reference points and benchmarks have been used in the design of the programme:

QAA UK Quality Code for HE
National qualification framework
Subject benchmark statements
University strategies and policies

The learning outcomes that underlie the educational aims of the UWE undergraduate English Literature programme are broadly in line with QAA Benchmark Statement (2007) and FHEQ qualification descriptors (2008). Learning outcomes are level-specific, increasing in terms of sophistication and complexity with each level. The learning outcomes of UWE English Literature increasingly involve creative opportunities in line with the QAA Benchmark Standards (2007). In the case of the English Independent Project, which has several types of assessment, specific learning outcomes clearly express the equivalence of the range of projects. Assessments operate within QAA Benchmarking guidelines and within the regulatory framework offered by the University's 'Academic Regulations and Procedures' and 'The Academic Quality Management and Enhancement Framework.' Staff research feeds into modules at various levels, and in particular at level three, where modules are created in line with staff expertise as well as what will develop and be of practical use to our students in the workplace. Students are encouraged to attend staff research papers and activities. We have consulted closely with Careers, and part of the programme development was informed by a UWE Learning and Teaching Fellowship project run by a member of the team. Employability skills are developed across modules through appropriate methods of teaching and learning to improve students' employment prospects.

Part E: Regulations

Approved to University Regulations and Procedures.
