Part 2: Description

Aims of the undergraduate modular scheme:

- to prepare students for professional creative practice within a chosen field of study;
- to provide an experience of higher education in art, media and design that offers students choice and independence in determining their own abilities and ambitions within a subject discipline;
- to equip students with the intellectual, practical, critical and creative skills necessary for them to locate themselves and their practice within professional, social, historical and cultural contexts;
- to give students the confidence to develop informed independent judgements with critical and intellectual rigour;
- to ensure that the development of key/transferable skills is an integrated part of the curriculum;
- to equip students with the necessary understanding of research techniques and appropriate methodologies;
- to sustain an environment in which individual students may realise their full potential.

Educational aims: Fine Art BA (Hons)

The programme aims to enable students to:

- Develop an individual Fine Art practice that is informed by an understanding of historical and contemporary visual art.
- Gain knowledge and understanding of appropriate media skills and methods to develop and sustain a Fine Art practice.
- Develop the intellectual and critical skills necessary to demonstrate critical reflection, evaluation and analysis in the development of their practice
- Develop the technical, contextual and key/transferable skills necessary to work in a professional environment or to undertake further study.

Educational aims: Art & Visual Culture BA (Hons)

The programme aims to enable students to:

- Develop an informed view of relevant theoretical perspectives in relation to student's individual practice.
- Demonstrate an understanding of the complex relationship between theory and practice through research, analysis and critical reflection.
- Understand and articulate the conceptual and theoretical context of their practice.

The Foundation year is a period of study that enables students to be inquisitive and experimental, reflective and evaluative, in which fertilisation between disciplines is encouraged. Students will work together on sequential practical, studio based, modules to develop the divergent thinking necessary for study in Art & Design. As the year progresses students will increasingly focus on their chosen pathway. Their academic thinking and writing skills will be developed through a contextual study component that runs alongside these modules that is linked to the students' emerging creative identities.

Part 2: Description*Foundation year Aims:

The Integrated Foundation year will enable the student to:

1. Develop a contextual awareness of a range of approaches to making and thinking in Art & Design;
2. Develop the skills necessary to progress their work and their learning in Art & Design;
3. Make safe and appropriate use of methods, materials and tools to create works in response to ideas;
4. Solve creative problems through the application of theoretical and technical understanding;
5. Develop creative solutions through visual and textual research and analysis;
6. Evaluate the successes of their progress and outcomes;
7. Effectively present themselves and their work.

Foundation year Learning outcomes:*A Knowledge and understanding of:

Some key theories, issues and debates associated with Art & Design Practice;
 Range of contexts for the production and consumption of Art & Design;
 Basic principles of Art & Design and how these have developed;
 The main methods of enquiry appropriate to Art & Design and their pathway or destination programme;
 Identification of personal creative influences.

B Intellectual Skills:

Development of evaluative skills in relation to Art & Design, and to approaches to solving problems within their chosen discipline;
 Effective use of research to develop ideas and lines of argument and to engage in discussion and debate.

C Subject/Professional/Practical Skills:

Acquire competences that will enable them to progress onto their destination programme;
 Use a range of techniques to produce an imaginative and creative body of work;
 Awareness of health, safety and environmental issues relevant to materials and processes used.

D Transferable skills and other attributes:

Apply research skills and strategies to develop individual interests and support personal views;
 Write, document, and communicate ideas;
 Be self-motivated;
 Exhibit time-management.

Programme requirements for the purposes of the Higher Education Achievement Record (HEAR)

Fine Art graduates will possess the practical, theoretical, and professional skills and knowledge that underpin a wide range of related Fine Art disciplines.

Graduates will be able to apply their thinking to a diverse range of subjects and relate these to the broad field of creative contexts and practices. They can critically evaluate the relationship between initial intent, content and delivery to inform the development and evaluation of a variety of creative outputs.

Graduates will be able to demonstrate skills in research and critical thinking in order to implement a range of creative, strategic and technical skills across diverse contexts and practice. They will have practical experience and theoretical knowledge a broad range of 2D and 3D disciplines together with moving image, and web based approaches to art making. Depending on their own Fine Art specialism, graduates will have acquired technical skills that may range from expertise in specific manufacturing processes, to design and information technology packages to events management and marketing skills.

Graduates will have the ability to work both as part of a team and independently. A strong emphasis is placed on the acquisition of independent analysis and creative initiative during the degree and this equips Fine Art students with the flexibility to progress into a broad range of professions both directly related to and distinct from their subject specialism. Fine Art graduates will be confident collaborators and possess the ability to present themselves and their work professionally as well as engage with a diverse range of people and audiences.

Fine Art graduates will be highly visually and conceptually literate and will excel at creative problem solving. They will have the ability to work as autonomous practioners or within teams in a variety of contexts and for a variety of audiences.
