Part 2: Learning and Teaching
Learning Outcomes	On successful completion of this module students will be able to: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>1. apply their knowledge of the origins and development of the Gothic as a distinct literary genre from the 18th to the 20 century to their reading of literary texts; (Component A and B.)</li> <li>2. consider how issues relating to gender, sexuality, class and race are reflected within Gothic writing and how these function as a mirror for cultural anxiety; (Component B and possibly A)</li> <li>3. read Gothic texts from a number of theoretical positions; (Component B and possibly A).</li> <li>4. navigate the inter-disciplinarity of the Gothic from a literary starting point; (Component B and possibly A.)</li> </ol>

Syllabus Outline	This module will approach the Gothic as a distinct fictional genre through a survey of literature and history, landmarked by key texts and literary movements. It will map the evolution of the genre from the origins of the Gothic novel in the mid eighteenth century up to the late twentieth century where film and theatrical adaptation will also be considered. Mainly through the prescribed novels and short stories, the module will demonstrate how Gothic literature reflects, provokes and negotiates cultural anxieties, particularly in relation to gender, race and class. What constitutes being human will be explored through monstrosity (eg. bodily horror), the concept of the ghostly and dysfunctional family relationships. Theoretical approaches to the texts will include gender and psycho-analysis. Students will have the opportunity to do creative writing and textual editing.
Contact Hours	There will be a total of 72 contact hours for each student over the course of the module. Teaching will take place in rooms designed for interactive activities including group work. QAA guidance is available here  http://www.qaa.ac.uk/Publications/InformationAndGuidance/Pages/contact-hours.aspx
Teaching and Learning Methods	Scheduled learning will take place through lecture, workshop and seminar activity. Independent learning will occur as students undertake essential and secondary reading and prepare for assignments.

Reading Strategy	Students will be required to purchase the prescribed primary texts. They will also be provided with digitised materials with additional primary and secondary material. Detailed advice on recommended secondary reading will be provided in a module handbook, which will also list the best websites for accessing information and resources. Links to these websites will also be provided on Blackboard. Students will be constantly reminded that the Library's stock of relevant material is valuably supplemented by thousands of full-text articles downloadable from databases such as LION, JSTOR, and Project Muse, and specialist online journals.

Part 3: Assessment
Assessment Strategy	Component A <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>The assessed student presentations will test students' ability to develop critically nuanced arguments, and to demonstrate excellent presentation skills. Students will also be able to practise their multimedia skills through the use of presentation software.</li> </ul> Component B The 2,000 word essay or poster presentation (2,000 words) and the extended essay (3,000 words) will assess students' critical and analytical skills. This component will enable students to develop their own independent, critical and/or theoretical approach to the module texts and themes. The module leader will decide whether students will be provided with essay questions or instructions for the poster presentation within which they can choose their own texts and critical approaches.
