UN Convention on Contracts for the International Sale of Goods (CISG)
Contact Hours/Scheduled Hours	12 x 2 hour workshops Scheduled contact is supplemented by independent learning structured around reading and questions set in advance. In addition, students are encouraged to attend seminars organised by the Centre for Legal Research and the Research Units of the Department of Law.
Teaching and Learning Methods	The main focus of teaching and learning on the taught LLM programme is through independent research and debate in the context of 2 hour weekly workshops. The workshop-based approach to teaching and learning is designed to enable the student to develop the independent research, analytical and reflective skills required for successful completion of a postgraduate level course. Students will need to complete the necessary preparatory reading and study of any set case materials in advance of each workshop. From each workshop, the student will be expected to have developed a general mastery of the subject under consideration. In addition, students will be expected to raise, critically assess and defend different points of view on controversial issues in class and to make presentations to the class on their own and in groups. Scheduled learning for this module is in the form of workshops. The activities covered in workshops may include lectures, seminars, tutorials, group discussions, group exercises, role play, case studies, presentations by students and staff, in groups or individually, debates and other activities such as films or video and online discussions. Independent learning includes hours engaged with essential reading, case study preparation, preparation for oral presentations, assignment preparation and completion etc.
Reading Strategy*	All students will be encouraged to make full use of the print and electronic resources available to them through membership of the University. These include a range of journals (both print and electronic) and a wide variety of resources available through web sites and information gateways. This is particularly relevant with this module. There are a variety of electronic sources available and use will be made of the ICC website in particular. The University's Library website pages provide access to subject relevant resources and services, and to the library catalogue. Many resources can be accessed remotely. Students will be presented with opportunities to develop their information retrieval and evaluation skills in order to identify appropriate resources effectively.

	This module is supported by Blackboard, where students will be able to find all necessary module documentation, to include guidance on essential and further reading within the module outline. Direct links to information resources and digitised materials will also be provided from within Blackboard. Any essential reading will be indicated clearly, along with the method for accessing it, for instance, students may be expected to purchase a set text or be referred to texts that are available electronically. At the moment there is no one set text but there a variety of up to date sources which have been purchased by the library and held on short loan. It is possible to make selections of these available to students through the digital collection. Where possible electronic versions will be made available via Blackboard. The reading list will be made available in the module outline which will be accessible via Blackboard and through any other vehicle deemed appropriate by the module/programme leaders. If further reading is expected, this will be indicated clearly. If specific texts are listed, a clear indication will be given regarding how to access them and, if appropriate, students will be given guidance on how to identify relevant sources for themselves, for instance, through use of bibliographical databases. Essential reading and additional reading will be distinguished. Where the readings are books a selection of readings will be indicated for the individual sessions.
Indicative Reading List	Indicative Reading List: Recommended Texts The following are recommended as useful general texts and provide an indication of the type and level of information that students will be expected to use.
