Part 2: Learning and Teaching
Learning Outcomes	On successful completion of this module students will be able to: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> recognise different meanings ascribed to the concept of culture, and explain how cultures are generally studied; (Comp A & B) describe key concepts in intercultural communication, and use them to analyse communication (verbal and non-verbal) and the factors mediating it (e.g., stereotypes and prejudices); (Comp A & B) analyse and address problems that occur in the intercultural/international workplace as a result of cultural differences; (Comp A & B) reflect on the challenges of intercultural communication in relation to their career. (Comp A & B)
Syllabus Outline	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Part I: Conceptual foundations—where we present key ideas, concepts and debates about the subject (include: debates about the nature of culture and the way to study it; verbal and non-verbal aspects of intercultural communication, such as proxemics, chronemics, haptics, kinesics and vocalics; the effects of prejudices, stereotypes and ethnocentrism). Part II: Themes in intercultural communication—where we present a selection of themes within the subject (can include: intercultural meetings and negotiations, ethical dilemmas in intercultural settings, virtual communication

	in an intercultural environment). <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Part III: Intercultural communication and international careers—where we look at the interplay between international careers and intercultural communication.
Contact Hours	3 hours over a 12 week period consisting of a mixture of large group and small group learning activities.
Teaching and Learning Methods	Scheduled learning This module will be taught through a combination of lectures, seminars and workshops.. Lectures will provide the overall framework while seminars will provide the forum for discussion of issues touched upon in the lectures. Workshops may involve students in supervised or independent hands-on experiential learning, e.g. through role-play, discussions, field-trips to culturally significant local locations, small group work, work in computer laboratories and online learning. External speakers may be used where appropriate. Students will be provided with an indicative bibliography to help them explore the background to the lectures and prepare for tutorials and workshops. Independent learning This will include hours engaged with essential reading, working towards coursework assessment and examination preparation. These sessions constitute an average time per level as indicated in the table below.
Key Information Sets Information	Key Information Sets (KIS) are produced at programme level for all programmes that this module contributes to, which is a requirement set by HESA/HEFCE. KIS are comparable sets of standardised information about undergraduate courses allowing prospective students to compare and contrast between programmes they are interested in applying for. <table border="1" data-bbox="459 1077 1369 1469"> <thead> <tr> <th colspan="5">Key Information Set - Module data</th> </tr> <tr> <td colspan="4">Number of credits for this module</td> <td>15</td> </tr> <tr> <th>Hours to be allocated</th> <th>Scheduled learning and teaching study hours</th> <th>Independent study hours</th> <th>Placement study hours</th> <th>Allocated Hours</th> </tr> </thead> <tbody> <tr> <td>150</td> <td>36</td> <td>114</td> <td>0</td> <td>150</td> </tr> </tbody> </table> The table below indicates as a percentage the total assessment of the module which constitutes a - Written Exam: Unseen written exam, open book written exam, In-class test Coursework: Written assignment or essay, report, dissertation, portfolio, project Practical Exam: Oral Assessment and/or presentation, practical skills assessment, practical exam Please note that this is the total of various types of assessment and will not necessarily reflect the component and module weightings in the Assessment section of this module description:	Key Information Set - Module data					Number of credits for this module				15	Hours to be allocated	Scheduled learning and teaching study hours	Independent study hours	Placement study hours	Allocated Hours	150	36	114	0	150

Reading Strategy	All students will be encouraged to make full use of print and electronic resources available to them through membership of the University. The module handbook and key texts will be available on blackboard. Further reading will be available in a range of electronic books (e.g. ebooks, ebrary), electronic journals (available through Ebsco, Emerald, Sage databases), multidisciplinary databases (e.g. LexisNexis, FAME) and a variety of resources available through websites and information gateways. The University Library's web pages provide access to subject-relevant resources and services, and to the library catalogue. Many resources can be accessed remotely. Students will be presented with opportunities within the curriculum to develop their information retrieval and evaluation skills in order to identify such resources effectively
Indicative Reading List	The following is an indicative reading list for validation purposes. More current advice on reading is provided in the module handbook each year and in other more frequently updated sources. Barsoux, J.L., and Schneider, S. Part 3: Assessment

Assessment Strategy	Assessment The module is assessed by a 2 hour exam, and a portfolio of activities which enable student to demonstrate their engagement with a variety of topics and material. Preparing the coursework and revising for the exam enable students to consolidate and develop the learning done through individual preparation, and during lecture and tutorial sessions. It brings students to develop their knowledge of the field of intercultural communication and of its key ideas, concepts and debates; and it enables students to develop skills in regard to writing, analysis, argumentation and synthesis. In addition to developing those professional skills, preparing the assignment contributes to their employability by making them more sensitive to the importance of appropriate communication, and more knowledgeable about the way intercultural communication can affect international careers. The exam is worth 25% of the final mark, and the portfolio, 75%.
