Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of this module trainees will be able to demonstrate that they:

- 1. Understand the importance to continuing improvements in teaching practice. design and outcomes for young children, of engagement with data, research, literature and other professional sources. (A&B)
- Have a secure knowledge of the Creative Arts, Knowledge and Understanding of the world, Physical Development and PSED (EYFS) and Foundation subjects in the curriculum (KS1) and and understand how to foster and maintain pupils' interest in the area/subjects, and address misunderstandings
 (A)
- 3. Evaluate different models of learning relating to the acquisition of knowledge, or skills, and discrete teaching vs cross-curricular teaching (A)
- 4. Understand the role of the subject leader and have a deep understanding of the specific pedagogical knowledge related to their specialist subject/area.(B)
- Know how to plan and conduct a small-scale enquiry in a systematic and independent way, using primary and secondary sources and appropriate ethical and methodological approaches; (B)

	 Can articulate a rationale for how planned interventions in their teaching are informed by an understanding, underpinned by literature, of how young children learn; (B) Know how to use local and national statistical data to evaluate the effectiveness of their teaching and plan and implement further interventions to support children's attainment; (B)
Syllabus Outline	Areas of Learning (EYFS), curriculum, pedagogy and assessment
	Foundation subject knowledge and curriculum understanding Specialist subject and subject pedagogical knowledge
	Formative interrogation and use of data to improve young children's attainment
	Practitioner classroom-based research: methodologies and methods; ethics; theory and case studies of practice
	Evidence-based professional knowledge and professional learning communities
	Current national educational policy, curriculum and priority areas
Contact Hours/Scheduled Hours	Contact time for this module will take the form of lectures, seminars, workshops, presentations, directed study and online engagement.
Teaching and Learning Methods	Scheduled learning: This includes whole cohort lectures, seminars, module tutorials, structured school/setting placement-based work, subject knowledge workshops, , technology-enhanced learning through online engagement and e-mail contact. Independent learning: There is an expectation that trainees engage in additional independent study, including engaging with essential and further reading, working on personal subject knowledge, preparation for and completion of assignments.
Reading Strategy	All trainees will be encouraged to make full use of the print and electronic resources, available to them through membership of the University. These include a range of electronic journals and a wide variety of resources available through web sites and information gateways. The University Library's web pages provide access to subject relevant resources and services, and to the library catalogue. Many resources can be accessed remotely. Trainees will be presented with opportunities within the module to develop their information retrieval and evaluation skills in order to identify such resources effectively. All essential reading will be indicated clearly, along with the method for accessing it, e.g. trainees may be expected to purchase a set text, and will be referred to other texts held in the library and texts that are available electronically. Further guidance will be available in the module handbook and via the module information on UWE online. If further reading is expected this will be indicated clearly. If specific texts are listed in subject-specific documentation, a clear indication will be given regarding how to access them and, if appropriate, trainees will be given guidance on how to identify relevant sources for themselves, e.g. through use of bibliographical databases. Formal opportunities for trainees to develop their library and information skills will be provided within the induction period and by academic subject tutors. Additional support is available through the Library Services web pages including interactive tutorials on for example accessing electronic journal articles and referencing.

Part 3: Assessment

Assessment Strategy

The module will be assessed in two components. The first component focuses on trainees understanding of the Creative Arts, Knowledge and Understanding of the world, Physical Development and PSED (EYFS) and Foundation subjects in the curriculum (KS1) and the relationship with cross curricula teaching and learning. Different models of cross curriucla learning are to be explored, as will subject integrity and pedagogical approaches to learning.

Part two of the assessment for this module will explore trainees understanding of policy, practice and issues within a specialist area. Trainees will be required to engage in and evaluate a small-scale enquiry with this focus.

All students must have completed a UWE Application for ethical review of research involving human participants form (adapted for the Department of Education and Childhood) and had this approved and signed off by their supervisor before beginning their research. If the supervisor has any concerns which cannot be resolved with the tutee then the ethical review will be passed to the Module Leader and then potentially to the Faculty Research Ethics Committee to consider. Any subsequent changes to the project need to appear as amendments to the Ethical Review form and resubmitted to the Supervisor for approval and re-signing. The completed Ethical Review form must be included in the assignment submission.
