Teaching and Learning Methods	Whilst lectures are the principal teaching method used for the presentation of course content, a wide variety of other techniques and approaches are employed (as shown above) to enrich the delivery and to cater for different student learning styles and preferences. Scheduled learning includes lectures, seminars, set exercises, video exemplars, oral presentations, guest speakers and tutorials. Independent learning includes hours engaged with essential reading, assignment preparation and completion etc. These sessions constitute an average time per level as indicated in the table above. Scheduled sessions may vary slightly depending on the module.
Reading Strategy	Required Reading List Any essential reading will be indicated clearly, along with the method for accessing it, The Alexander College library will hold copies for loan as well as copies for reference only to improve access to required texts. Students will be encouraged to obtain their own copies of required reading. The required reading list will be posted on the course website. Module guides will also reflect the range of reading to be carried out. Recommended Reading Further reading will be required to supplement the set text and other printed readings. Students are expected to identify all other reading relevant to their chosen topic for themselves. They will be required to read widely using the library search, a variety of bibliographic and full text databases, and Internet resources. Many resources can be accessed remotely. The purpose of this further reading is to ensure students are familiar with current research, classic works and material specific to their interests from the academic literature. Access and Skills The development of literature searching skills is supported by a Library seminar provided during induction week. Students will be presented with further opportunities within the course to develop their information retrieval and evaluation skills in order to identify such resources effectively. Additional support
