Part 2: Learning and Teaching
Learning Outcomes	On successful completion of this module students will be able to:
	 Demonstrate an understanding of developing a company, including market analysis and customer value propositions (All) Demonstrate a knowledge and understanding of sources, uses and interpretation of financial information (A1, A3) Understand and apply key principles of sales and marketing planning and scoping and managing simple projects (A1, A2, A3)
	 Understand and apply key principles of knowledge management and the use of information technology to their team company (B)
	 Communicate - with clarity - verbally and in writing, their ideas and findings to a diverse audience (A2, A3)
	 Understand the ethical implications and sustainability of practice of business decisions taken (A3)
Syllabus Outline	The learning on this module is experiential and enquiry-based; is guided through team coaching (see learning and teaching methods below for fuller explanation); and does not follow a set syllabus. Instead team coaching sessions work with experience gained on learning projects and the learning taken from readings and from reflecting on these projects. As such the precise content will be tailored to meet the needs of individual students and their team company.
	To meet the learning outcomes, there will be particular emphasis in this module on providing students with guidance, readings and coaching in the following areas:
	Market analysis and creating customer value propositions
	Readings and guided reflections on sales and marketing planning

- Readings and guided reflections on taking a brief, scoping and writing a project proposal and managing simple projects
- Roles and 'job descriptions'
- Establishing customer relationships

Contact Hours

Formal contact hours with staff will take the form of team coaching sessions, comprising 72 hours over the 27 week learning block (in total there will be 216 hours of team coaching across the 90 credits studied in this learning block). There is an expectation that students will attend all team coaching sessions. In addition, students will have access to support from an 'Assistant Coach' – a recent graduate of a similar programme.

Students on the programme will typically spend more time on campus, working in their team companies than would typically be the case for and each team will have its own dedicated space within the 'Team Entrepreneurship' suite. At least one of the Team Coaches will typically be present during normal working hours in the suite.

The programme is supported by the Blackboard virtual learning environment and makes extensive use of this technology to support discussion groups, share project reports, etc.

Taken together, a student will typically receive 80-88 contact hours on this module.

Teaching and Learning Methods

'Classroom' learning on this module is based around team coaching sessions, supplemented coach support and giving and receiving peer feedback. During this learning block there will be two x 4 hour team coaching sessions per week, shared with the 'Management Learning and Development (UMCDBT-30-1) and 'Learning in Teams' (UMCDBS-30-1) modules. Students will also work with the Team Coach and their peers to develop and refine their Learning Contract as projects and the module unfold.

Students will undertake team meetings and teambuilding sessions and learning projects, and will select appropriate texts that support their practice and deepen their learning from these activities. They will be guided in selecting appropriate reading material from the programme reading handbook by the Team Coach and their peers.

The study time on this module for a typical student will be:

Team coaching 72 hours Team meetings 18 hours Sales and marketing planning 40 hours Project planning 18 hours Reading 50 hours Learning project 40 hours Learning contract 10 hours Reflective logs 12 hours Assessment 40 hours Scheduled learning on this module is through participation in team coaching sessions.

Independent learning includes hours engaged with essential reading, identifying and approaching potential clients, undertaking projects and recording learning, assignment preparation and completion etc. These sessions constitute an average time per level as indicated in the table below.

Key Information Sets Information

Key Information Sets (KIS) are produced at programme level for all programmes that this module contributes to, which is a requirement set by HESA/HEFCE. KIS are comparable sets of standardised information about undergraduate courses allowing prospective students to compare and contrast between programmes they are interested in applying for.

Reading Strategy

The reading strategy on this module is designed to encourage students to read relevant and challenging books and refereed journal articles at a point in time when they can apply ideas and concepts learned on peer coaching and learning projects. Readings are selected from the programme reading handbook, supported by readings identified and retrieved independently. In accessing reading materials in this way, the reading strategy aims to support students in making strong connections between theory and its application in practice and in developing their skills in identifying, sifting and selecting information sources.

Students on this module are, therefore, expected to access readings to support their learning and performance in teambuilding activities and on learning projects, and can expect to apply their learning from these materials in the course of their project and/or their reflections on the project. They will be supported in the selection process by their Team Coach and their peers.

On this module, students will be required to read and review books, refereed journal articles and other published sources totalling 20 book points¹, at least 5 points of which must be selected from the 'Running a Company' and 'Sales and Marketing' sections of the programme reading handbook and a minimum of 5 points should consist of readings identified and retrieved independently.

The programme reading handbook provides an extensive book list across the whole programme. Updated annually to ensure currency, the programme reading handbook is available on Blackboard, as well as in hard copy. It is organised by broad topic area to improve ease of access, whilst still permitting students to select the readings of most relevance to them.

Indicative Reading List	Indicative readings for this module include: Barnes, C., Blake, H. and Pinder, D. (2009) Creating and Delivering Your Value Proposition: Managing Customer Experience for Profit Bridges, W. (1997) Creating You & Co Csikszentmihailyi, M. (2004) Good Business: Leadership, Flow and the Making of Meaning DeGeus, A. P. (1999) The Living Company: Growth, Learning and Longevity Evans, V. (2011) FT Essential Guide to writing a Business Plan Mcdonald, M. Christopher, M, Knox, S. and Payne, A. (2000) Creating a Company for Customers: How to Build and Lead a Market-Driven Organisation

Part 3: Assessment

Assessment Strategy

In keeping with the learning strategy for the module, the assessment strategy has been developed to encourage students to reflect deeply on their experience and their learning and to make strong connections between theory, ideas and concepts and their application in practice. Project reports will include reflections on the implications for ethics and sustainable practice of the project.

Summative assessment will require the student to enquire into and reflect critically on researching markets and planning and conducting a learning project. This will include book reviews, project reports, client presentation and a critical reflection on their learning on the module (linked to their Learning Contract). These will be collected together in an e-learning portfolio.

As reflective practitioners, students receive formative feedback and assessment throughout the module from, for example, the Team Coach, peers and, where appropriate and available, clients. Formative feedback on a sample book review and project report and on a plan for the reflective essay will be provided by the team coach.

Students submit book reviews and project reports to their e-portfolio throughout the teaching block to fit with the timing of their projects. Student team companies keep planners to record submission of book reviews, project reports and learning logs, etc for team members as part of their workload management activity and are responsible as a company for managing workload of individual members. Team coaches will also monitor e-portfolios at regular intervals, as agreed in the learning contract with each student, so that materials are submitted in a timely fashion on completion of projects.

Book reviews, project reports and presentations will be scheduled to fit with student projects. The completed learning portfolio will be handed in no later than 6 weeks after the end of the teaching block.
