Part 2: Learning and Teaching
Learning Outcomes	On successful completion of this module students will be able to: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1 Demonstrate a comprehensive understanding of the differences between their field of study in the UK and the approved international institute (A). 2 Appraise and rationalise the subject specific information learnt at the international institute and give recommendations as to how aspects of this could be incorporated within the UK industry (A). 3 Evidence the subject specific knowledge and the practical skills gained through the international study period through a variety of media (A). 4 Work respectfully and effectively with confidence in cross-cultural situations and in multilingual/multicultural environments through face to face interactions (A). 5 Enhance their employability through experiential appreciation of culture and academic diversity (A).
Syllabus Outline	The content of this module must meet the aims as set by the programme specification for the programme on which the student is registered. The content will therefore vary depending on: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1 The programme aims of the degree the student is enrolled on; 2 The module provision provided at the partner institute; and; 3 The module enrolment agreed with the Programme Manager prior to starting study at the partner institute. The partner institute and module selection will be scrutinised on an individual basis by the Programme Manager on registration of interest by the student and prior to acceptance of the student on to the module. Students will not be permitted to enrol on modules which would equate in subject to ones which they have already achieved as part of their degree programme or which they will have the potential to undertake on return to their studies on their registered degree programme.

Teaching and Learning Methods	Scheduled learning There will be no scheduled learning for this module delivered by the Associate Faculty, Hartpury College. However, it is expected that as part of an Exchange Programme students will be exposed to a range of delivery methods as part of their international study, such as lectures, seminars, tutorials, project supervision, demonstration, practical classes and workshops; fieldwork; external visits; work based learning; supervised time in studio/workshop. Independent learning Students will be expected to prepare for the modules undertaken as part of an Exchange Programme prior to and following attendance at scheduled sessions. This independent study will include hours engaged with essential reading, directed reading, assignment preparation and completion etc. These sessions constitute an average time per level as indicated in the table below. Placement Learning This module, which can form part of an Exchange Programme, requires students to undertake an approved and agreed period (one/two semesters) of overseas study at a higher education institute and on modules appropriate to their programme aims and which have been pre-approved by the Programme Manager.

	Virtual Learning Environment (VLE) This module is supported by VLE where students will be able to find all necessary module information and remain in contact with the Associate Faculty, Hartpury College and the support networks available. Direct links to information sources will also be provided from within the VLE.
Key Information Sets Information	Key Information Sets (KIS) are produced at programme level for all programmes that this module contributes to, as a requirement set by HESA/HEFCE. KIS are comparable sets of standardised information about undergraduate courses allowing prospective students to compare and contrast between programmes they are interested in applying for. Key information set – module data Number of credits for this module 15 <table><tr><th>Hours to be allocated</th><th>Scheduled learning and teaching study hours</th><th>Independent study hours</th><th>Placement study hours</th><th>Allocated Hours</th></tr><tr><td>150</td><td>0</td><td>25</td><td>125</td><td>150</td></tr></table> The table below indicates as a percentage the total assessment of the module which constitutes: 1 Written Exam: Unseen written exam, open book written exam, in-class test. 2 Coursework: Written assignment or essay, report, dissertation, portfolio, project. 3 Practical Exam: Oral Assessment and/or presentation, practical skills assessment, practical exam. Please note that this is the total of various types of assessment and will not necessarily reflect the component and module weightings in the Assessment section of this module description: Total assessment of the module: <table><tr><td>Written exam assessment percentage</td><td>0%</td></tr><tr><td>Coursework assessment percentage</td><td>100%</td></tr><tr><td>Practical exam assessment percentage</td><td>0%</td></tr><tr><td></td><td>100%</td></tr></table>	Hours to be allocated	Scheduled learning and teaching study hours	Independent study hours	Placement study hours	Allocated Hours	150	0	25	125	150	Written exam assessment percentage	0%	Coursework assessment percentage	100%	Practical exam assessment percentage	0%		100%

Reading Strategy	Core Readings Any essential reading will be indicated clearly through the module guide and through the VLE module page. Methods for accessing the core literature will be provided alongside this guidance. Information in the module guides will also reflect the range of reading to be carried out. Further Readings Further reading will be required to supplement the core reading for this module. Students are expected to identify all other reading relevant to their chosen topic for themselves. They will be required to read widely using the library search, a variety of bibliographic and full text databases, and Internet resources. Many resources can be accessed remotely. The purpose of this further reading is to ensure students are familiar with current research, classic works and material specific to their interests from the academic literature.

	Access and Skills Formal opportunities for students to develop their library and information skills are provided within the induction period and study skills sessions within the international institute. Additional support is available through online resources which will be guided through the VLE. This includes interactive tutorials on finding books and journals, evaluation information and referencing.
Indicative Reading List	The following list is offered to provide validation panels/accrediting bodies with an indication of the type and level of information students may be expected to consult. As such, its currency may wane during the life span of the module specification. However, as indicated above, CURRENT advice on readings will be available via other more frequently updated mechanisms, including the module guide. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Guirdham, M. Part 3: Assessment
Assessment Strategy	The module will be formally assessed a portfolio to evidence the students' academic and personal development. During their international study period, students will be required to compile a progressive portfolio to evidence the academic study they have undertaken as part of their international study period. This will enable the students and supporting academic staff to ensure that the learning outcomes and the aims of the degree programme on which the student is registered are being met by the modules being undertaken at the partner institute.
	Formative feedback can be gained from this module through the VLE, and through the progressive portfolio submissions. Summative feedback can be gained through the portfolio marking feedback sheet.
	In line with the College's commitment to facilitating equal opportunities, a student may apply for alternative means of assessment if appropriate. Each application will be considered on an individual basis taking into account learning and assessment needs. For further information regarding this please refer to the VLE.
