Contact Hours	48 contact hours. These will take the form of group activities, case study, work-based learning or project supervision, workshops and online activities. Contact time may also take a virtual form rather than face-to-face, through the use of email discussion groups, virtual learning environments (VLEs) and other technology-aided means. It can also take place in a work-based setting.
Teaching and Learning Methods	Current approaches, which comprise of: Seminars, group work, problem solving exercises, critical review of research and policy, utilisation of prior knowledge, reflection and challenge from peers, remain appropriate.
Reading Strategy	Core readings Any essential reading will be indicated clearly, along with the method for accessing it, e.g. students may be required to purchase a set text, be given a print study pack or be referred to texts that are available electronically or in the Library. Module guides will also reflect the range of reading to be carried out. Further readings Further reading will be required to supplement the set text and other printed readings. Students are expected to identify all other reading relevant to their chosen topic for themselves. They will be required to read widely using the library search, a variety of bibliographic and full text databases, and Internet resources. Many resources can be accessed remotely. The purpose of this further reading is to ensure students are familiar with current research, classic works and material specific to their interests from the academic literature. Access and skills The development of literature searching skills is supported by a library seminar provided within the first semester. Students will be presented with further opportunities within the curriculum to develop their information retrieval and evaluation skills in order to identify such resources effectively. Additional support is available through the Library Services web pages, including interactive tutorials on finding books and journals, evaluating information and referencing. Sign up workshops are also offered by the library.

Indicative Reading List	The following list is offered to provide validation panels/accrediting bodies with an indication of the type and level of information students may be expected to consult. As such, its currency may wane during the life span of the module specification. However, as indicated above, current advice on readings will be available via the module guide. Online reading list link: https://rl.talis.com/3/uwe/lists/2F122AE6-69C1-D7FC-C85B-68D20D030BAF.html?lang=en-GB Websites http://www.belbin.com/ http://www.kingsfund.org.uk/leadership www.leadershipacademy.nhs.uk/resources/healthcare-leadership-model/ www.nsocialcare.co.uk/about-us/leadership-strategy

Part 3: Assessment

Assessment Strategy	Component A: This assessment supports the ethos of the module which is encouraging the development of leadership skills and implementing change to improve practice. Presenting a poster and adapting to questioning is reflective of current practice and how to 'sell' a change idea. An evidence-based poster relating to a change proposal for service improvement that will include rationale and drivers; evidence base; change management approach using a change model of choice, inclusive of the anticipated leadership approach and critical debate. Supported by a 5-minute presentation in which to demonstrate leadership and influencing ability. Accompanied by 10 minutes of critical questioning to ascertain wide reading and knowledge of leadership models and approaches in relation to change management theory.
