| Key InformationSets Information | N/A for M Level.  |
| ReadingStrategy                 | All students will be encouraged to make full use of the print and electronic resourcesavailable to them through membership of the University. These include a range ofelectronic journals and a wide variety of resources available through web sites andinformation gateways. The University Library's web pages provide access to subjectrelevant resources and services, and to the library catalogue. Many resources can beaccessed remotely. Students will be presented with opportunities within the curriculumto develop their information retrieval and evaluation skills in order to identify suchresources effectively. |
|                                     | Any essential reading will be indicated clearly, along with the method for accessing it,e.g. students may be expected to purchase a set text, be given or sold a print studypack or be referred to texts that are available electronically, etc. This guidance will beavailable either in the module handbook, via the module information on UWEonline orthrough any other vehicle deemed appropriate by the module/programme leaders.   |
|                                     | If further reading is expected, this will be indicated clearly. If specific texts are listed, a clear indication will be given regarding how to access them and, if appropriate, students will be given guidance on how to identify relevant sources for themselves, e.g. through use of bibliographical databases.  |

| Part 3: Assessment  |  |  |  |
|---------------------|--|--|--|
| Assessment Strategy | The assessment strategy is sufficiently flexible in order for participants toaddress a management and leadership issue which is specific to their role.Each student will be supported through tutorials and guidance to support theirspecific topic. Students will meet with a tutor, or contact them via email, foradvice and guidance on the action enquiry.                                   |  |  |
|                     | The assessment criteria for this module is:  |  |  |
|                     | ALM: Conceptual Domain (Core)The assignment demonstrates that the student can use and organisecoherently relevant ideas, perspectives or theories to interpret and/or exploreissues under study and in addition can critically analyse and/or evaluatethose ideas, perspectives or theories showing the ability to synthesise and/ortransform ideas in the process of developing an argument |  |  |
|                     | plus 2 further criteria chosen and negotiated from the list of assessment domains below:   |  |  |
|                     | BLM: Literature Domain :The assignment demonstrates that the student can reference an extensiverange of relevant literature and utilise it in the development of analysis anddiscussion of ideas, including critical engagement with that literature.   |  |  |
|                     | CLM: Contextual Domain:The assignment demonstrates that the student has an awareness of the   |  |  |

| significance of relevant contextual factors (eg personal, locational, historical, political etc) influencing the area of study and is able to critically engage with the contextual significance.  |
| DLM: Research Domain:The assignment demonstrates that the student can plan for and execute a small scale enquiry in a systematic and reflexive manner, identifying and explaining methodological and epistemological issues around the research process and critically analysing and evaluating research outcomes.  |
| ELM: Ethical DomainThe assignment demonstrates that the student has an awareness of ethical issues arising in or associated with the area of study, showing sensitive engagement with an appropriate ethical framework for interpretation of ideas or for practice. In addition, there is exploration of some of the problematics arising in relation to ethical dilemmas or decisions.                       |
| FLM: Values Domain:The assignment demonstrates that the student can clearly identify andanalyse the basis of their own value position and where relevant, the valueposition of others in relation to the area of study, and critically evaluateassociated claims to knowledge.  |
| GLM: Action Domain:The assignment demonstrates that the student can explore the relationshipbetween theory and practice in the workplace, and use reflection to developpersonal theory and refine professional practice, with due regard to issues ofequity and social justice, critically evaluating professional development needsand/or outcomes.  |
| HLM: Negotiated Domain:In addition to criteria specified under domains A-F, we accept the possibilityof tutor and student negotiating an appropriate assessment criterion, toencompass specific elements of significance not addressed through theexisting criteria. With tutors new to the programme it is important that suchnegotiated criteria are approved by the relevant Award Leader. |
