STUDENT AND ACADEMIC SERVICES

How to teach maths and English in Early Years and primary settings
 Identifying and addressing misconceptions in children's learning across the National Curriculum subjects and the Early Years curriculum
 Extending learning to challenge more able pupils

Teaching and Learning Methods: You will engage with this module through a range of tutor-directed teaching and learning approaches, peer engagement and significant independent study. We prioritise learner agency and the development of learning skills and dispositions including research-informed questioning and debate. There is an expectation that trainees will link their academic studies to their professional development and practice throughout.

Part 3: Assessment

A portfolio provides students with the opportunity to explore English, maths and some of the foundation subjects in some detail. The assignment should include reference to their own teaching experience as well as literature and policy.
 Plagiarism is addressed in that trainees are commenting on their own experience in school alongside the supporting research and policy.
