Section 2: Programme Overview, Aims and Learning Outcomes

Part A: Programme Overview, Aims and Learning Outcomes

Overview: Nursing is the science and art of promoting and protecting health and well-being, preventing ill-health, and prolonging life through the organised efforts of society. Nursing knowledge, skills and understanding are essential in tackling some of the major challenges of the 21st century healthcare delivery, including the rising tide of avoidable disease and the persistence of health inequalities nationally and globally. The roles that nursing professionals undertake vary greatly, but all aim to improve health, prevent ill-health, and make a positive difference to peoples' lives.

The philosophy of UWE's nursing education encompasses a flexible, progressive and innovative approach to ensure that graduates are caring, competent and critical thinkers. This will be realised by working in partnership with local National Health Service, Private and voluntary sector partners expanding and developing national and international links; representing the breadth of opportunities available in healthcare. UWE provides innovative practice learning opportunities through the strategic planning of placement episodes of care, linking theory to practice and anticipating future trends in healthcare delivery. 'A student is expected to achieve a pass in the professional practice placement of a specific level in order to be allowed to commence a professional practice placement at the next level of the programme.

UWE's philosophy of teaching and learning recognises the value of theoretical and practical experience equally; through the promotion of positive learning communities. The identity of the UWE Future Nurse is crucial in the teaching and learning activities ensuring that all individuals enrolled onto a nursing programme will be empowered and proactive; challenging assumptions and transforming practice. The UWE nurse seeks opportunities to enhance their learning and identifies continuous development of practice. The UWE graduate nurse will be situationally responsive, digitally literate, driving the profession forward through connectivity and dynamism that has been underpinned by research informed learning and teaching.

Educational Aims: Broad aims:

Provide exploratory learning opportunities fostering solution focussed practitioners

Create competency in evidence-based enquiry and self-directed learning

Develop a flexible and adaptable nursing workforce

Meet the Future Nurse standards as set out by the Nursing and Midwifery Council (NMC)

Facilitate access to postgraduate study and beyond

Specific aims:

Future Nurse uses facets of Critical Pedagogy, Action Learning, Problem-Based, Enquiry- Based Learning and Peer Coaching in learning and teaching methods incorporating digital technology

The assessment strategies within the modules are designed to account for the broad aims of the programme and capture all experiences in the course of the student's journey
