Section 2: Programme Overview, Aims and Learning Outcomes

Part A: Programme Overview, Aims and Learning Outcomes

Overview: The LLM in Global Business and Finance Law allows students to develop their knowledge and understanding of the laws and regulatory structures underpinning business and finance in a globalised economy.

Based on the regulation of international commercial transactions and banking, students can tailor their LLM to match their particular interests by selecting from a range of options connected to contemporary legal, social, economic and environmental issues affecting international and domestic commerce and trade.

Students choosing this LLM will be engaged in the study and critical evaluation of a range of current issues, including the changing technological landscape, legal and regulatory responses to financial crime and the role of corporations in developing and maintaining ethical and sustainable business practices.

The LLM in Global Business and Finance Law operates within an educational environment where students will be encouraged to grow personally and professionally. Students completing this LLM will also possess a range of intellectual and professional skills, allowing them to pursue diverse employment opportunities in both the UK and internationally, such as legal practice, public sector employment, banking and financial crime investigation and regulation.

Features of the programme: The Global Business and Finance LLM engages with innovative learning and teaching strategies, research-led and practice informed teaching with the opportunity for students to develop their critical understanding of the law while engaging with some of the most pressing global issues impacting the world of global business and trade. Students will develop their own analytical skills needed to make reasoned, creative and original judgments regarding the development and practical application of the law in this area. The programme provides students with the core legal knowledge and systematic understanding of the fundamental legal principles and the requisite skills in preparation for employment in legal practice, public sector employment, banking and financial crime investigation and regulation.

Educational Aims: The LLM in Global Business and Finance Law aims to facilitate the following:

A systematic and structured knowledge of regulation of international commercial transactions, banking, and the tools and techniques that support advanced legal research.

An ability to critically evaluate law and policy in this field and to apply relevant laws and theories in order to solve complex problems and consider solutions for reform/improvement.

An ability to communicate professionally, make effective decisions in a variety of situations, and manage complex tasks independently.

An awareness of themselves as global citizens through the recognition of the importance of ethics, sustainability and diversity in a global context.

A commitment to lifelong learning and personal professional development.

Programme Learning Outcomes:

On successful completion of this programme graduates will achieve the following learning outcomes.

Programme Learning Outcomes

- PO1. Demonstrate a deep systematic knowledge and understanding of business and finance laws in a global context, including an awareness of contemporary issues and debates within their field of study.
- PO2. Apply appropriate legal research methodologies in research and scholarship related to business and financial law in a global setting.
- PO3. Generate accurate and creative solutions to complex legal problems in a global business and finance law context.
- PO4. Critically evaluate the role and effectiveness of laws in relation to issues affecting the organisation and regulation of business and finance in domestic, regional and international contexts.

- PO5. Systematically organise and communicate advanced legal and nonlegal information, using criteria developed for specialist and non-specialist audiences in unpredictably complex legal contexts.
- PO6. Evaluate themselves and plan their personal and professional development through reflective practice.
- PO7. Take responsibility for themselves as global citizens, exercising ethical decision making and valuing diverse perspectives.

Assessment strategy: The programme adopts a programmatic assessment strategy which is built on inclusive authentic assessments. The strategy considers the different demographics of our students, together with the competencies, knowledge, and attributes they will gain upon completion of their studies with us. The strategy provides for formative assessments which will enable students to make use of feedback to develop their learning and skills.

In addition, the strategy considers the high rise of assessment offences through contract cheating and plagiarism or the recycling of essays. Therefore, a range of assessment styles are adopted with the aim of deterring assessment offences as well as meeting the aims of the programme learning outcomes whilst reflecting the learning in the modules.

Throughout our modules, students will have a single point of assessment. We take a programmatic approach to the assessment strategy by creating an interaction in the different module assessments. The assessment styles and formats are varied and set with the aim of developing their knowledge, problem solving, research and reflection on learning and personal and professional development. By way of example, the assessment methods include presentations, course works but also aspects of practice such as drafting of legal advice.

The variety and authenticity of our assessment styles will enable our students to develop their academic and professional skills, helping students prepare for their transition into professional life.

Student support: STUDENT SUPPORT AND GUIDANCE

Student support for all issues relating to the content, delivery and assessment of modules is provided by Module Leaders and for more general academic and professional concerns by the LLM Programme Leader.

Student Services Student Advisors are available to provide confidential advice where necessary on matters such as regulations, extenuating circumstances procedures, progression as well as personal issues such as ill health, time management etc. This services is supported by wider University provision and online resources.

Careers Guidance and a wide range of support in relation to employability is provided centrally by UWE Careers. Students seeking employment opportunities during their studies have access to the university's Job Shop.

All students are invited to participate in an Induction programme at the start of their studies. This includes specific guidance and orientation sessions for international students. The university's web pages provide access to detailed and up to date information covering all aspects of academic and administrative procedures and support. The LLM handbook provides details of a range of issues relating to all LLM programmes.

An important part of the programme is the involvement of students. Two or three student representatives are elected each year to serve on the Student Representatives and Staff Forum (SRSF). These are held every term to discuss issues raised by students in relation to their experience of studying on the programme and at UWE in general. Issues raised are discussed in an open and friendly atmosphere and students are encouraged to express their opinions. Issues raised are taken forward for action by the LLM Programme Leader.

Support to students with disability is offered centrally through the university's Disability Resource Centre.

In addition to the above, the university's Student Services offer a range of services and support including:

University Health Centre

Advice on careers, employability and finding student and graduate vacancies

Community Volunteer Programme

Global Student Support to assist international students

Help with visas

Part C: Higher Education Achievement Record (HEAR) Synopsis

The Global Business and Finance Law LLM is based on an understanding of law as both a vocational discipline and a subject of academic study. Students have developed their critical and reflective capacity, exploring in depth the areas of contemporary legal, social, economic and environmental issues affecting international and domestic commerce and trade.

Part D: External Reference Points and Benchmarks

QAA Framework for Higher Education in England, Wales and Northern Ireland 2014

The educational aims and learning outcomes of the programme reflect the requirements of the QAA Framework for a qualification at Master's level. The programme has been designed to incorporate the QAA's Master's degree characteristics (March 201). There is no QAA subject benchmark statement for Law at master's level.

UWE Vision and Mission

The educational aims and learning outcomes support the UWE Vision and Mission by focusing in particular on the development of skills which foster innovation, sustainability, internationalisation, diversity and employability. The programme aims to address the need for an understanding of Environmental and Sustainable Development law in a global context, focusing on both national and international legal developments and is designed to appeal to a diversity of students, recognising their differing needs.

Programme monitoring and review may lead to changes to approved programmes. There may be a time lag between approval of such changes/modifications and their incorporation into an authorised programme specification. Enquiries about any recent changes to the programme made since this specification was authorised should be made to the relevant Faculty Academic Registrar.

The University's Disability Statement:

The University philosophy is to integrate provision for disabled students within the services offered to all students at the University and so remove the barriers that can be disabling. It aims to provide an inclusive educational experience and so to respond fully to the spirit as well as the letter of current legislation (www.uwe.ac.uk/csa/disability.html)
