Section 2: Programme Overview, Aims and Learning Outcomes

Part A: Programme Overview, Aims and Learning Outcomes

Overview: The programme aims to support the UWE Bristol widening participation strategy by enabling students to undertake a foundation year before progressing to year one of the programme.

The BA (Hons) Criminology with Law programme aims at Level 1 to provide students with a comprehensive introduction to the related disciplines of Criminology and Law. At Levels 2 and 3, the programme is designed to help students develop an in-depth and detailed understanding of both Criminology and Law, in equal measure, to an advanced level, highlighting how these two disciplines interact.

Educational Aims: In particular the programme aims to:

Promote a legal and scientific understanding of the multitude of different explanations of criminality across a number of different offences and what this means in regard to victimology, crime control and crime prevention; the punishment and /or rehabilitation of offenders; public/societal attitudes to crime; and the Criminal justice system

Develop a holistic understanding of offending, victims, crime, criminality and criminal justice.

Promote critical evaluation of offending, victims, crime, criminality and criminal justice.

Develop an understanding of the relationships between theory and its application to the full range of offending, victims, crime, criminality and criminal justice.

Develop an understanding of the role of empirical evidence in the creation and constraint of theory and the role of theory in the collection, analysis and interpretation of data.

Enable the acquisition and knowledge of a range of legal and criminological research skills and methods, quantitative and qualitative, culminating in an ability to conduct research independently.

Develop the abilities and insight necessary to appreciate and critically evaluate theory, research findings, applications and interventions.

Provide related study options in the field of Criminology and Law.

To acknowledge and accommodate the wide diversity of student needs and interests through the provision of a flexible programme which enables students to choose between varieties of specialist modules.

To encourage scholarship and to foster the virtues of objectivity, reflection, judgment, critical study, and independent learning (individual and collaborative).

Develop an understanding of legal values and principles, ethical and professional judgment and Foundations for Law

Develop an understanding of a range of major legal concepts which will support the study of crime control, crime prevention and public/ societal attitude to crime in a criminological context

Develop specialist knowledge and skills to meet the demands of a modern workplace both in the public and private sector.

Part C: Higher Education Achievement Record (HEAR) Synopsis

Criminology is a contemporary, multi-faceted and applied subject area. Criminology focuses on definitions and understandings of crime as well as criminal justice from a range of perspectives (victims, offenders, the state and institutions). Criminology, especially the criminology taught at UWE, focuses on theoretical learning as well as the application of this knowledge to real world situations. Throughout their degree criminology students will experience a range of learning (online/offline), teaching (lectures, seminars, workshops and TEL) and assessment (essays, exams, case studies, presentations) techniques. Students also acquire knowledge of some of the Law's core areas and develop key skills and attributes for their future working lives. There are opportunities for a year on placement or study abroad, and participation in a significant range of extra-curricula activities including mooting, pro-bono work and Law student societies. Students are challenged in their ability to communicate, analyse and problem-solve, developing their intellectual capacity focusing on practical, enterprising and future-facing application within the legal arena and elsewhere.

Consequentially, a Law and Criminology degree opens graduates up to a range of graduate level positions, including, in the criminal justice system and related charitable sectors.

Staff research projects:

Where ever possible staff are encouraged to utilize their research – and that of colleagues – to inform their teaching, both in terms of content and pedagogic approach.

Employer interaction and feedback:

Employers and alumni are regularly consulted to ensure the currency and relevance of the programme

The Criminology benchmarks have informed the curricular content of the programme from the start. The spine of the programme is therefore in conformity with the benchmarks. These were consulted during the planning process and at each stage of the development of the programme. They are embedded in the educational aims and learning outcomes (cognitive, subject, professional and transferable) of the compulsory elements.

Please note: Criminology awards differ (mainly in terms of tone and options) depending on where they are located in their institution (i.e., Sociology, Law, Psychology, etc) the current programme adheres to the core provision of similar criminology degrees and the subject benchmarks. Therefore meaning that it is appropriate and comparable.
