Section 2: Programme Overview, Aims and Learning Outcomes

Part A: Programme Overview, Aims and Learning Outcomes

Overview: The BA(Hons) Business and Events Management programme at UWE offers students a current and integrated education covering the main disciplines and operational areas of business, with a specific focus on the knowledge and skills required for a career in events management. The curriculum aims to challenge students in their ways of thinking, learning and behaving, and issues of ethics and ethical decision-making, sustainability and global citizenship are embedded throughout. The programme actively seeks input from the external environment through, for example, guest speakers and assessments that require students to test out concepts in practice and to reflect on their own experience of organisations. In addition, all students are encouraged by the curriculum to actively pursue work experience (e.g. via placement, internship or volunteering). Student achievement is supported by a clear personal development strand of transferable skills and 'brain habits' over all three levels, which facilitate the transition into Higher Education and underpin employability and lifelong learning.

Educational Aims: The programme aims to enable students to:

Acquire a critical understanding of (event) organisations, their management and the changing external environment in which they operate, and of events as an area of academic and applied study, event planning and management, event attendees and clients, and events policy and strategy;

Be equipped with the employability attributes and skills necessary for career in business or events management (including self-employment);

Develop an analytical and enquiring approach in the analysis of business problems so that considered and appropriate conclusions are drawn, which can be communicated effectively in a variety of forms;

Have an informed understanding of critical contemporary issues and theoretical debates, including ethics and ethical decision-making, sustainability and global citizenship;

Work with academic theory in practice; and

Develop a strong sense of self and the lifelong learning skills to make an ongoing contribution to society at large.

All students will be required to take one of a group of modules at level three which have a particular emphasis on the development of graduate attributes embedded in experiential activity which is CV enhancing and “real world”, engaging students beyond the campus.

Part C: Higher Education Achievement Record (HEAR) Synopsis

Graduates will have studied various business disciplines, as well as event contexts, events planning and management, pervasive issues and project work (involving the staging and evaluation of a live event). In addition, they will have undertaken portfolio work, simulation games, site visits and (nonresidential) field trips, and possibly a placement or study year abroad and additional professional qualifications (e.g. CIM, ILM). They will be in possession of intellectual and transferable skills, the sum of which makes them suitable for a range of graduate employment positions, and subject, professional and practical skills that make them ideal for employment in the events industry (or the tourism industries more generally).

Part D: External Reference Points and Benchmarks

The learning outcomes of the programme map against the QAA Subject Benchmark Statements for General Business and Management (revised February 2007) and Hospitality, Leisure, Sport and Tourism (revised May 2008), and the following University strategies and policies:

The University's Vision and Mission

UWE Bristol Strategy 2020

UWE Charter

Faculty (Business and Law) strategies and policies:

Blended Learning Framework

Employability Strategy

FBL Learning, Teaching and Assessment (LTA) Strategy

Enterprise and Entrepreneurship Strategy

Staff research projects. Wherever possible, members of staff are encouraged to utilise their research – and that of colleagues – to inform their teaching, both in terms of content and pedagogic approach.

Employer interaction and feedback. A forum of local tourism and events organisations has been created to facilitate dialogue between employers and the Tourism and Events team at UWE. This forum encourages discussion of how curriculum can best be designed to meet the needs of local organisations whilst also providing students with appropriate skills and knowledge sought in graduates. In this respect employers have a direct input into shaping the curriculum, as well as providing opportunities for work-based learning and project work.
