Part 2: Description

The programme develops the students' knowledge and understanding of literature in relation to culture and society. It enhances students' transferrable skills of critical engagement, understanding of the relationship between literature, culture and society, research, argument, clear and effective communication. It encultures students into discipline-specific knowledge, understanding and practices.

The educational aims of the programme are to:

- provide a current curriculum which offers depth within and breadth across the subject area through distinctive modules based on staff expertise;
- provide students with a thorough knowledge of English literary culture by exposing them to canonical and non-canonical texts from the Renaissance to the twenty-first century;
- develop students' critical practices that stress the crucial balance between close reading and theoretical/contextual models of interpretation;
- foster the students' understanding of the ways in which literature engages with, and is consumed in, contemporary society;
- extend students' knowledge of the historical and intellectual frames of reference from which literature emerges;
- offer a distinctively varied learning and assessment portfolio which encourages the development of analytic skills, creative expression and critical argument;
- provide a supportive and responsive framework for students' academic and personal development;
- provide intellectually challenging and student-focused teaching that is informed and enriched by staff research;
- offer distinctive and varied teaching practices, including individual tutorials, student-led seminars, lectorials, lectures, workshops and virtual learning teaching environments;
- foster a progressive academic culture in which students mature and develop independence over the course of their degree;
- offer a compulsory curriculum that develops outward-facing, employable students who are fully conscious of the transferable value of their subject-specific knowledge and skills;
- encourage students to practise their subject-specific knowledge and skills in real working environments through the employability strategy;
- offer modules that engage and connect with cognate programmes across the faculty, facilitating integrated learning opportunities;
- offer opportunities that address UWE's wider agenda such as sustainability, social responsibility, enterprise.

Programme requirements for the purposes of the Higher Education Achievement Record (HEAR)

The Programme encourages students to produce academic work of the highest calibre by achieving the stipulated learning outcomes for all of their modules. Students are advised to engage in extra-curricular activities such as joining the English Society, becoming Student Ambassadors, undergoing the training to be PAL Leaders and Senior PAL leaders, representing their programme/module at staff-student meeting. The Sandwich Option route also offers students a defined option to gain accredited experience of the workplace. At level 3 the Kate Fullbrook Award is presented to the student who best exemplifies achievement in adversity; the Keith Davey Memorial Prize for the best English Independent Project is awarded to the highest achieving student on the module.

Placement Year

Students on the sandwich route (SW) must undertake and pass a work placement:

During this time students must complete the 30 credit level 3 module, Professional Development on Placement UPNNA5-30-3.

This module assesses the student's personal development, from the experience of placement and their ability to identify issues relevant to their Placement's organisational context and to then frame, scale and position a critical work-based enquiry relevant to the specialism of the degree.

This provides a rich process in which student can make links between theory and practice, reassess themselves and confront the challenges of carrying out a role in a new organisation whilst knowing that they will have the opportunity to be supported if there is a problem and that they will be returning to the programme for a further period of reflection and learning after the placement is completed.

To be eligible for Placement students would normally be expected to have passed a minimum of 210 credits
