Section 2: Programme Overview, Aims and Learning Outcomes

Part A: Programme Overview, Aims and Learning Outcomes

Overview: Drama and Acting students develop a broad range of both professional and transferable skills. Seminars and workshops enable them to work closely together, sharing knowledge and practical experience, as well as supporting and mentoring each other.

Educational Aims: Apply acting, improvisation and directing methodologies to the devising process, selected play texts, scenarios and film scripts;

Analyse and interrogate different methods of acting, directing, physical theatre, and screen acting, which can be expressed in practice;

Problem-solve using imaginative strategies for acting/directing challenges inherent to different theatrical genres and film production;

Engage in close reading and critical evaluation of texts of various kinds and feel confident in contributing to cultural debates;

Analyse and evaluate the arguments of others, and effectively communicate their own arguments in both oral and written modes after undertaking independent research;

Work effectively in groups, managing their workload successfully to communicate their ideas in the form of presentations and performance practice;

Envisage themselves as contributing to the cultural and artistic life of the academic community and beyond.

Part C: Higher Education Achievement Record (HEAR) Synopsis

Drama and Acting students develop a broad range of both professional and transferable skills. Seminars and workshops enable them to work closely together, sharing knowledge and practical experience, as well as supporting and mentoring each other.

There is an overall emphasis on personal development to ensure that Drama and Acting graduates emerge from their studies as employable, well-rounded individuals ready to embark on a wide variety of careers. So alongside practical Acting, Directing, Creative Writing and Technical skills, students also develop in terms of problem solving, presenting, analysing, articulating, and organising. Perhaps most importantly, they learn to manage work on their own and in groups.

Part D: External Reference Points and Benchmarks

Curriculum content, development and progression, and teaching and learning approaches within this programme are in line with QAA subject benchmark recommendations. These include the breadth and depth of knowledge being offered, the coherence of the programme's structure, and the use of a wide range of teaching and learning models and assessment practices.

University teaching and learning policies

Staff research projects: All members of the Drama and Acting team are engaged in practice and/or research. They have a wide range of published and/or performance practice that informs the academic content of this programme.

Part E: Regulations

Approved to University Regulations and Procedures.
