- Demonstrate an understanding of the relationship between writing in a Higher Education context and writing in an industry context;
- Develop opportunities to gain industry/work related experience as part of the curriculum.

Programme requirements for the purposes of the Higher Education Achievement Record (HEAR)

Creative and Professional Writing at UWE is an interdisciplinary programme that gives students the skills to be effective, confident and creative communicators across a range of traditional and new writing outlets, as well as independent project managers and innovative problem-solvers. The course develops students' artistic flair and technical sophistication, and enables them to reflect critically and constructively on their own creative practice, as well as on the literary and cultural contexts of their writing. Benefiting from the involvement of industry professionals, students gain realistic expectations of the world of work, including specialist knowledge and an understanding of the transferability of their skills.

Part 3: Learning Outcomes of the Programme

The award route provides opportunities for students to develop and demonstrate knowledge and understanding, qualities, skills and other attributes in the following areas:

NB: The acquisition of the knowledge, techniques and professional and intellectual skills involved in Creative and Professional Writing is an incremental process, in which practice and repetition is fundamental. When areas of knowledge and specific skills feature in the learning outcomes of modules at more than one level as the course progresses, an increasingly sophisticated, nuanced, wide-ranging and mature grasp of these knowledge areas and skills will be required.

Part 4: Student Learning and Student Support

Teaching and learning strategies to enable learning outcomes to be achieved and demonstrated

Students will experience a wide range of teaching and learning methods designed both to establish understanding of the subject and to stimulate evaluation and critique of practices within it. These evaluative and critical skills will also be applied to students' own professional development and achievements. These approaches are based upon the view that evaluative skills are crucial to individual success as a practitioner after graduation.

Methods used include:

- o a range of project briefs/assignments
- o opportunities for inter-active group activities in seminars and workshops
- o the assessment of engagement with reflective learning through evaluative outcomes
- o collaborative learning exercises that build team-working skills
- o analysis and critique of case studies and examples
- o direct contact with the profession through industry-standard projects, field work, visiting practitioners and optional work experience
- o engaging with professional practice at all levels of the course.

At UWE, Bristol there is a policy for a minimum average requirement of 12 hours/week contact time over the course of the full undergraduate programme. This contact time encompasses a range of face-to-face activities as described below. In addition a range of other learning activities will be embedded within the programme which, together with the contact time, will enable learning outcomes to be achieved and demonstrated.

On the BA Hons Creative and Professional Writing programme, teaching will be a mix of scheduled, independent, collaborative, online and optional placement learning.

Scheduled learning: includes workshops, seminars, tutorials, project critique and professional/industry engagement.

Independent learning: includes hours engaged with essential reading, case study preparation, assignment preparation and completion etc.

Collaborative learning: includes group tasks and activities. These will vary in scale dependent upon the required outcomes within a given module.

Placement Year (taken between years 2 and 3) For students on the sandwich route. – a significant period of paid employment or self-employment. A typical placement lasts for 26 weeks or more.

Online Learning: Students will be required to participate in online learning via Blackboard and the MyUwe portal.

Student support for learning also includes:

The info point services: This comprehensive student support service includes: advice on academic regulations and procedures, extenuating circumstances, module choices, student records including enrollment, and accessing students' records and what to do if unforeseen circumstances affect their studies.

Induction: All students will be introduced to the faculty and its resource centres via a series of Health and Safety and introductory sessions. All teaching is sequential and students will be fully supported in acquiring and applying the necessary learning skills.

Library Services: The library offers a wide range of study support, including online tutorials and advice on using the library, research skills, group work, presentations, evaluating information, referencing, IT skills, time management and exams. The library also provides access to the skills4study website and Lynda.com. At each level, selected modules will also host specially tailored skills development sessions by library staff.

Part 4: Student Learning and Student Support

Academic Personal Tutors: Each student will have an academic personal tutor, with whom they are invited to meet at least once per semester to discuss their academic progress and development. This includes helping students with disabilities or additional needs access appropriate support. APTs also help students reflect on their career plans, introducing students to the UWE Bristol Futures Award, InfoHub careers resources and encouraging them to see Careers Advisers.

Peer Assisted Learning: PAL Leaders provide additional Peer Assisted Learning support. Students also have the opportunity to train as PAL Leaders as part of their professional development (contributing to the UWE Bristol Futures Award).

Description of the teaching resources provided for students

All students on BA Hons Creative and Professional Writing will have access to the technical resources of the Faculty. These include, but are not limited to: IT suite and flexible learning zones, library, creative production suites (publishing software/web design etc.). Where relevant, workshops will be embedded into the teaching and learning process, and students will have the opportunity to diversify their practice further throughout the programme

Description of any Distinctive Features

Creative and Professional Writing is a creative interdisciplinary programme which balances experimental approaches to thinking and writing with industry preparedness. Students will have the opportunity to undertake extended creative writing projects, aimed at developing their creative and technical writing skills, their communication skills, and the entrepreneurial and project management skills that are vital to freelance careers in the creative industries. Throughout the course, independent learning and creative development is balanced with collaboration and teamwork. Engagement with industry is central to the ethos of the programme

Part 5: Assessment

Approved to University Regulations and Procedures

Assessment Strategy

Assessment strategy to enable the learning outcomes to be achieved and demonstrated:

The programme uses a flexible range of assessment types, enabling students to develop critical, creative and practical skills. This includes traditional academic forms (such as essays and oral presentations), as well as creative and cultural forms (such as creative writing and publicity materials). In the first year, assignments introduce key skills required for these various forms; from the second year onwards, assignments allow increasing specialisation, so that students can focus on the knowledge and skills central to their interests and potential career goals. This combination of flexibility and specialism aims to ensure students with disabilities are not disadvantaged by the mode of assessment; further reasonable adjustments will be made where needed.

Assessments are designed to ensure students receive appropriate support and feedback in developing their work. Study skills are embedded as part of some assignments, enabling students to enhance their presentation, editorial and research skills. Some assignments allow students to draw on work-related experience, where relevant.

Part 5: Assessment

Assessment Map

The programme encompasses a range of assessment methods which may include submission of a portfolio of practical work, library assessment, exams, workbooks, and presentations. These are detailed in the following assessment map:

Placement Year

Students on the sandwich route (SW) must undertake and pass a work placement:.

During this time students must complete the 30 credit level 3 module, Professional Development on Placement UPNNA5-30-3

This module assesses the student's personal development, from the experience of placement and their ability to identify issues relevant to their Placement's organisational context and to then frame, scale and position a critical work-based enquiry relevant to the specialism of the degree.

This provides a rich process in which student can make links between theory and practice, reassess themselves and confront the challenges of carrying out a role in a new organisation whilst knowing that they will have the opportunity to be supported if there is a problem and that they will be returning to the programme for a further period of reflection and learning after the placement is completed.

To be eligible for Placement students would normally be expected to have passed a minimum of 210 credits

The University's Standard Entry Requirements apply.

We are willing to consider applications from students who cannot meet the typical offer but who can demonstrate a high level of creative ability. We also welcome applications from mature students and those with non-standard qualifications.

Part 7: Entry Requirements

English Language Requirements:

All students will normally have a recognised English Language qualification of at least GCSE grade C or equivalent standard. If English is not the first language test results such as IELTS 6.0, TOEFL 570 (230 if computer text), NEAB or Cambridge Proficiency grade C will be acceptable.

Tariff points as appropriate for the year of entry - up to date requirements are available through the courses database.

Part 8: Reference Points and Benchmarks

This programme has been developed in relation to the following reference points:

- QAA Draft Benchmark Statement for Creative Writing (2015)
- SEEC Credit Level descriptors for HE
- QAA National Qualifications Framework
- UWE Vision, Mission and Strategy
- UWE Learning and Teaching Strategy
- UWE Assessment Policy
- Feedback from alumni
- Feedback from industry professionals
- UWE QMEF requirements (15/45 credit structure)
- Student Feedback SRSF meetings
- Staff Feedback via programme reports, module specs, formal & informal meetings
- EE comments/reports
- Diversity and Disability profiles (sector-wide and department specific)
- Prospective students through Open Day consultation 2014/15

Staff are actively involved in their own practice and knowledge exchange activities with partnerships across a range of commercial and non-commercial organisations within the writing industries and other creative industries, and this 'in-house' expertise has informed the development of the programme.

The programme structure, curriculum content, professional skills and industry engagements have been successfully scrutinised by a professionally engaged external examiner and HE Teaching, Learning and Assessment in Creative and Professional Writing specialist. This scrutiny has been enhanced by the regular professional engagement of industry practitioners. The Creative and Professional Writing programme - along with other programmes in the Department of Arts and Cultural Industries - continually reassesses its professional currency via outward engagement, live commissions and industry events.

This specification provides a concise summary of the main features of the programme and the learning outcomes that a typical student might reasonably be expected to achieve and demonstrate if he/she takes full advantage of the learning opportunities that are provided. More detailed information on the learning outcomes, content and teaching, learning and assessment methods of individual modules can be found in module specifications, available on the University's website.
