For coding purposes, a numerical sequence (1, 2, 3 etc.) should be used for successive programme specifications where 2 replaces 1, and where there are no concurrent specifications. A sequential decimal numbering (1.1; 1.2, 2.1; 2.2 etc) should be used where there are different and concurrent programme specifications

Section 2: Educational aims of the programme

The MA Education has been developed in order to:

- Provide opportunity for practitioners across the field to gain a post graduate qualification and address personal, professional and institutional needs
- develop understanding of current thinking on 'best practice' in education, and to encourage the application and development of 'best practice' for the benefit of children, young people and adult learners
- develop and support individual and where possible group research into a range of aspects of education in order to improve practice and raise achievement within the field of compulsory and/or post compulsory education
- share and disseminate research findings and their impact on the quality of teaching and learning within the educational community and beyond
- enable participants to plan and/or conduct research or enquiry in a systematic way using primary and/or secondary sources
- encourage participants to identify relevant theoretical, professional and/or research based sources and use these appropriately in study and/or professional practice
- refine and extend the capacity to communicate the process and outcomes of their learning using a range of alternative vehicles
- provide an opportunity for educators to research and reflect upon current initiatives related to their professional work
- to enhance the quality of participants' practice through the encouragement of critical enquiry, innovative thinking and imaginative reformulation
- develop and refine skills of analysis, reflection, argumentation and research
- examine work-based or other relevant experiences and to develop a critical and reflective and effective orientation to their practices

Overarching Masers level aims:

- to enable participants to achieve a level of performance appropriate to the award of a Masters degree
- to allow participants to select from a range of components to meet their particular requirements in terms of content, sequence and time
- to enhance the quality of participants' practice through the encouragement of critical enquiry, innovative thinking and imaginative reformulation
- to ground participants' study in personal, professional and academic practice
- to create an environment appropriate to postgraduate study
- to underpin the Programme with innovative teaching, relevant staff research and staff development
- to widen participation to include all those who can benefit from the programme of study.

Section 3: Learning outcomes of the programme

The award route provides opportunities for students to develop and demonstrate knowledge and understanding, qualities, skills and other attributes in the following areas: ...

A Knowledge and understanding

Learning outcomes

Teaching, Learning and Assessment Strategies

A Knowledge and understanding of:

As a result of this programme, students will have:

- an in depth and systematic knowledge of the major educational theories, concepts and established principles based upon educational research at the forefront of their academic discipline
- awareness of problematics in relation to ethical dilemmas in professional contexts
- a comprehensive understanding of established methodologies of research and enquiry are used to create and interpret knowledge in education policy and practice
- understanding of the significance of relevant contextual factors influencing education policy and practice
- knowledge of the basis of their own value position related to the area of study and associated claims to knowledge
- critical understanding the significance of issues of equality, diversity, inclusion and social justice related to education policy and practice

Teaching/learning methods and strategies:

The programme models good practice and promotes metacognitive understanding of teaching and learning processes.

Teaching and learning strategies will cater for a variety of preferred learning styles which will include : lectures, seminars, tutorials, directed study tasks including use of literature, work-based activities and critical reflection upon working practices, research tasks, use of video, case studies role play, games and simulations, use of on-line materials, project work, group work and individual activity.

Assessment:

Assessment strategies will include: tutor assessed individual written work, assessed group discussions, poster presentations, oral presentations. Assessment will take place that is diagnostic, formative and summative.

B Intellectual Skills

B Intellectual Skills As a result of this programme, students will be able to: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • analyse critically and/or evaluate complex, incomplete or contradictory areas of knowledge used to interpret and/or explore the area of study, showing the ability to synthesise and/or transform ideas in the process of developing an argument • identify and explain methodological and epistemological issues around the research process, using a range of methods of data collection • evaluate critically research evidence, advanced scholarship and methodologies arguing for alternative interpretations or approaches where appropriate • synthesise both conceptual and numerical information in an innovative manner using knowledge of processes from the forefront of educational research • use critical reflection in the learning process to explore the relationship between theory and practice in complex situations • evaluate critically the implications of using an ethical framework for addressing ethical dilemmas in personal and professional practice 	Teaching/learning methods and strategies Teaching and learning strategies will cater for a variety of preferred learning styles which will include : lectures, seminars, tutorials, directed study tasks including use of literature, work-based activities and critical reflection upon working practices, research tasks, use of video, case studies role play, games and simulations, use of on-line materials, project work, group work and individual activity. Assessment Assessment strategies will include: tutor assessed individual written work, assessed group discussions, poster presentations, oral presentations. Section 5: Entry requirements

Normally participants will be required to hold a Degree (or equivalent) + QTS or CertEd plus several years of professional practice or CertEdFE or PGCert FHAЕ or experience in professional practice.

Candidates without a first degree will be required to demonstrate suitability for study at Masters level

Section 6: Assessment Regulations

a) Modular Assessment Regulations (MAR)

Section 7: Student learning: distinctive features and support

The modular programme provides the opportunity to accrue credits towards the nationally recognised awards of Postgraduate Certificate Postgraduate Diploma and Masters degree. It offers flexibility in the way in which students study and the pace at which it is undertaken. The MA Education therefore offers the benefits of a negotiated pattern of study combined with the demands of an award-bearing programme.

The distinctive feature of this award is the emphasis on providing teachers and educators with knowledge, skills and understanding to support research into aspects of education in order to improve practice and raise achievement. This is reflected in both the content and the processes of the programme.

The University modular programme offers the opportunity for accredited experiential learning, matched to the learning outcomes for the modules validated for this programme. The Accreditation of Experiential Learning (AEL) is highly valued in the programme, underpinned by considerable experience in the Faculty of AEL processes. AEL workshops offer opportunities for participants to reflect on their learning from experience gain credit for their experiential learning.

This award seeks to have a direct impact upon the improvement of learners' performance by providing learning opportunities for teachers that are both intellectually demanding and linked to the enhancement of professional competence. It aims to develop teachers to be able to articulate clearly the pedagogic basis of their professional practice and demonstrate competence in the execution of that practice for the benefits of their learners. The award has been carefully developed to reflect the identified needs of recipients.

The modular programme offers the opportunity for accredited learning, wherever it occurs and providing it is assessable against UWE academic criteria, to be credited towards the MA. The learning must be matched to the learning outcomes for the modules validated for this award. The Accreditation of Experiential Learning (AEL) is highly valued in the programme, underpinned by considerable experience in the Faculty of AEL processes. AEL workshops offer opportunities for participants to reflect on their learning from experience and to explore methods of presenting that experience in a way that can count as credit towards the degree

Workshops on developing study skills, writing skills, library skills, ICT skills together with a range of relevant study skill resources, are provided. An explicit and common bank of assessment criteria used for all assessments on the programme aids transparency and consistency in the student experience of assessment. The use of a virtual learning environment, and the use of on-line materials, support students studying in a variety of settings and modes, which is particularly helpful for part-time students.

Students are given individual support and guidance throughout the time they are registered on the Programme.

Section 8 Reference points/benchmarks

This programme has been developed in the context of the University teaching and learning policies and explicitly meets the requirements set out therein. The focus on an approach to pedagogy, underpinned by values and based on evidence is commensurate with the approach to learning and teaching set out in the Faculty Statement of Pedagogic Principle.

The requirements and considerations of the following external bodies have been taken into account during the development of the programme:

- OfSTED
- TTA National Standards:
- Threshold Criteria for SENCOs, Management, Subject Leaders, Specialist Teachers, Headteacher,
- SEEC level descriptors for programme specifications

Staff research projects

Faculty of Education staff are involved in research related to both substantive and methodological issues of relevance to the programme. Examples of staff research include:

- citizenship and education for democracy;
- education and training policy in relation to social regeneration, globalization, regionalisation and the nation state;
- education of excluded and disaffected young people;
- educational uses of ICT;
- interprofessional and interagency working practice
- evaluation of student-led learning;
- European Social Fund and the European Union;
- Excellence Challenge and the experience of widening participation co-ordinators;
- gender studies and in particular the education of boys;
- literacy and learning;
- policy and practice in inclusion and special educational needs;
- recruitment of minority ethnic groups into teaching;
- self-assessment practice in HE;
- transforming learning cultures in FE;
- urban education policy.

Employer interaction/feedback

- Some of the modules of this programme have been planned collaboratively with officers from LEA and there are regular meetings between UWE staff and LEA representatives to monitor and review delivery of the Modules and assess the progress of individual and cohort membership.
- Headteachers and advisory staff are notified of student participation, where relevant and encouraged to support individuals in school-based action research.
- Evaluative feedback from employers is combined with student evaluation to inform the monitoring and review process for future Programme development
